—Panmunjom 'Explanations'— Chinese Anti-Red PWs Refuse To Be Coaxed

Indian Commander Tells Prisoners 'Listen Or Else'

PANMUNJOM, Thursday (AP)—Some 200 anti-Communist Chinese war prisoners—who had ignored two ultimatums—were moved today to a holding compound near the "explanation center" where Red teams will try to coax them to return to their homeland.

The prisoners moved after a battalion of Indian troops surrounded the compound.

PANMUNJOM, Thursday (AP)—The commander of Indian custodian troops today issued an ultimatum to demonstrating anti-Communist Chinese war prisoners to listen to Red "explanation" teams or he would send soldiers into the compounds.

Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya told the shouting, bugle-blowing, rock-throwing prisoners he would give them until noon (9 p.m. CST, Wednesday) to attend the sessions.

(Because of slow, poor communications with the Indian camp, there was no immediate word on developments after Thimayya's deadline had passed.

(However, a dispatch to Tokyo at 1 p.m.—10 p.m. CST, Wednesday—indicated the deadline may have been extended two hours.)

Thimayya said the troops would try to persuade the prisoners to attend, but that "if they do not emerge voluntarily I suppose we will have to use some force."

The prisoners were flatly refusing to listen to Communist representatives who hope to coax them back to Communist rule.

The long-delayed explanations to the reluctant prisoners were to have started at 8 a.m. (5 p.m. CST, Wednesday) but hours later the Chinese still were loudly refusing.

Rocks rained down on the roads leading to the compounds, but apparently none of the Communist representatives was injured.

Leader Demands
While the prisoners blew bugles and shouted insults at the Reds, the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission hastily summoned 35 prisoner compound leaders. Allied and communist newsmen attended the session, at which the compound leaders demanded assurances that the prisoners would not be forced to return to China.

The restive prisoners also had demanded that correspondents be present while they debated explanation procedures with Indian Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya, chairman of the Repatriation Commission.

Thimayya rejected the compound leaders' demands for a change in explanation rules and insisted that the interviews go on as scheduled today.

The allies declined an offer to start simultaneously their explanations today to a comparative handful of U. N. prisoners described as refusing to return home. The U. N. Command told the Repatriation Commission it was in no hurry to begin because of the relative small number of men to be interviewed.

Even the Communists did not anticipate smooth sailing when the tough job of interviewing 14,500 Chinese and 7,800 North Koreans began at 8 a.m. (5 p.m., Wednesday, CST).

Peiping Radio, in a broadcast heard in Tokyo, predicted "the explanation work will not be a calm and smooth process."

It charged that "saboteurs and thugs" planted by the Allies would attempt to "waste as much of the explainers' time as possible out of their 8-hour working day."

All last night, after being told the hour was at hand, the restless prisoners shouted defiance and waved flaming torches in their neutral zone stockades.

Good Neighbors Get Together

Neighbors from miles around turned out to help convalescing George Wertz pick his corn. Enjoying a noon rest and the meal prepared by the ladies are Gene Berg, Earl Lohmeier, Ralph Burd, Alvin Klug, Chris Busboon, Tom Kulzer, Henry Piening, William F. Borgmann, William Schroeder, Ollie W. Busboon, Harry Busboon, Vernon Piening and William Berg. The meal for the huskers was prepared by Mrs. A. L. Wertz, Mrs. Chris Busboon, Mrs. Piening and Mrs. Schroeder. (Star Staff Photo.)

Neighbors Husk Injured Farmer's Corn

Convalescing from injuries received last month when he was run down by a car, George Wertz was worried about the 60 acres of corn he was unable to gather on his farm four miles west of Emerald.

He had tried for weeks to hire pickers but none were available. Meanwhile, his corn was becoming more and more in need of the feed.

There was a way out for George but he never suspected what it might be. And when it happened there were tears of happiness and gratitude in his eyes.

When they learned of George's plight, 13 nearby farmers banded together to pick the 60 acres of corn in one day. When he learned of the plan a day early, George felt it was too much to ask of his friends and tried to stop them but the men would not listen to him.

The 13 were at the Wertz farm early Wednesday morning and had the husking job completed that night.

Missouri Legislature Is Called

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP)—Gov. Phil M. Donnelly Wednesday called a special session of the Missouri legislature starting Monday to deal with the state's disastrous drought problems.

The governor did not say what recommendations he will make but he told his news conference he was convinced the legislature could appropriate money under the constitution to "avert a public calamity."

"Due to the failure of the railroads to reduce freight rates and the apparent inadequacy of the funds available from the federal government in this time of disaster," he announcement said, "many thousands of Missouri citizens will be financially ruined, our agricultural resources dissipated, and the total economy and welfare of our state seriously injured."

Donnelly has tried repeatedly to get assurances from Washington that the federal government would step in with additional drought relief. But he has received no solid indications of federal plans.

"Although Missouri is recognized as the worst drought disaster area in the nation," he said, "the federal government has not yet complied with my request to designate this last named section of Missouri as a drought disaster area."

This was a reference to his request Sept. 22 to designate the final 31 counties as a drought area, bringing the entire state into that classification.

Federal officials also have advised him, he said, that the government doesn't have funds to help Missouri farmers get hay from surplus Northern states.

Burglars Take $38
Police reported Wednesday night the burglary of a rooming house at 144 No. 10 where $38 in cash was taken. Entrance was gained to the apartment occupied by John L. Mackey by forcing the back on the apartment door.

Lincoln Rainfall Little Over Half Of Usual Amount
Lincoln has received only a little more than half the normal amount of precipitation for the year, the Weather Bureau reported Wednesday.

To date 14.22 inches have been recorded with the normal amount averaging 22.62. The last measurable amount of rain fell Sept. 24 with only .01 recorded. A larger amount of precipitation, 1.21, fell on Sept. 3. The normal rainfall for October is .82.

Low Reservoir Bids Brighten City Water Picture
The low bidder was Fairbanks Morris with a figure of $17.125.

The electric wiring for the pump was estimated at $1,700 and received a low bid of $1,345.50 from W. E. Dingman. Erickson stated that a total of 18 sets of plans and specifications had been issued by his office to prospective reservoir bidders.

New Pump
The new pump will be used on a stand-by basis. There are now two 10 million gallon capacity pumps at 51st which are taxed to their limit when the total available supply of 20 million gallons of water per day is pumped from Ashland.

Meanwhile, the seriousness of the existing water situation appears to have slackened with the cooler temperatures. The lifting of water use restrictions sent usage the first day to 24,895,750 million gallons but that is well below the 30 million gallon per day capacity.

On Monday, the day prior to the lifting of restrictions, pumpage was at the rate of 22,120,000. Pumpage Sunday was just 21,980,500.

Watering of lawns and gardens is now permitted all day every day by everyone but water department officials have warned that a waste of water will bring back restrictions.

House Ag Committee Hears Pleas For Cut In Controls

... Position In Contrast To South Dakota Stand

By JOHN SWANSON
Star Staff Writer

NORFOLK—The members of the House Agriculture Committee Wednesday night sat before a crowd of more than 1,000 Nebraska farmers—most of them in the leading business—and heard a note of conservatism expressed in requests for farm program changes.

The committee, touring the midwest, to gather the views of farmers in regard to growing farm problems, met in the city auditorium here while some Nebraska farm spokesmen asked the abolishment of one government program and less government control in other fields.

This contrasted with earlier meetings in South Dakota and Minnesota where the call was for full party supports and more government aid.

Congressman Robert Harrison of Norfolk announced, at the beginning of the hearing, that the committee will recommend that the Department of Agriculture buy up non-fat cows over the country and thus reduce the total cow population in the U.S. from 22 million to 19 million.

He said this would tend to reduce the surplus problem and to bring the emphasis around to choice grade beef.

This constitutes one of the first major recommendations by the committee to come out of the tour of hearings so far.

Keynote Set
The keynote for the meeting was set by Don Magdanz of Pierce speaking for the Nebraska Livestock Feeders Association which held its annual convention here Wednesday and adopted a series of resolutions.

The feeders group declared that the Commodity Credit Corporation should sell government-owned corn to local feeders for feeding purposes when that corn is not readily available to feeders through regular local market channels. This sale from the government, they said, should be at a price not to exceed five cents a bushel above the nearest terminal market price.

Heavy Blow
They also leveled a heavy blow at the current farm program by asking that the corn purchase agreement program be discontinued as quickly as possible. This program, according to the feeders, "serves no legitimate purpose and induces speculation."

A requirement that growers pay interest on corn loans regardless of whether or not this corn is redeemed or delivered to the CCC was also asked of the congressmen.

In backing up this demand, representatives of the feeders group pointed out that a corn grower who sells his corn must pay interest on his loan if he redeems his corn but does not pay interest on his corn loan if the corn is delivered to the CCC in payment of the loan. This, they said, results in discrimination against the grower who wishes to feed his own corn to his livestock.

The two infants displayed different reactions to the crowd of friends, photographers and well-wishers who saw them off at Ochsner Foundation Hospital.

Catherine Ann slept through most of the hub-bub and only managed a small smile at the last.

But Carolyn Anne waved a pudgy fist, laughed a little and blinked a great deal in the bright sunlight.

The historic separation of the twins was performed by a team of eight surgeons at Foundation Hospital. When the girls were born July 22, they were joined at the base of the spine. The operation wrote a new page in medical history, one surgeon said.

The two nurses who have watched over the pair since their birth, Mrs. Inez Hebert and Mrs. Emila Fairchild, described the girls as "good jolly babies," who seldom cry and always sleep soundly.

Sampling Opinion
The committee, headed by Rep. Clifford Hope (R-Kan.) has been sampling opinion of such items as price supports, loans, research, and marketing assistance.

They heard earlier at Watertown, S.D., that farmers in that area favored a government program which would mean direct purchasing by the government of several million heads of cattle for slaughter, canning, and export in order to reduce surplus cattle numbers.

The Congressmen remained silent on their views following the hearing. Chairman Hope said the record of the hearing would be "analyzed. This is one of the most constructive meetings we have had so far."

Another Congressman expressed surprise at the difference in attitude between Nebraska and South Dakota farmers.

"This meeting was 50 per cent more conservative than the ones in South Dakota," said Congressman Page Belcher (R-Okla.). Up there, he said, "the farmers wanted everything. With the exception of the stand by the Farmers Union there wasn't anything here that could be called very radical."

The Farmers Union blasted federal power policies of the current administration as they affect farmers at the hearing.

Frank J. Haumont of Broken Bow, speaking for the Nebraska Farmers Union, said the elimination of the withdrawal clause in the power program nullifies the preference clause which had benefited public purchasing bodies.

He said in regard to the "lip service paid to REA by the government, this law amounts to 'double-talk.' He said his organization strongly urges that it be called very radical."

—Johnston Urges Benson Ouster— Eisenhower Sets Out On A Fence-Mending Tour

Demos Jubilant Over Wisconsin Victory; Agriculture Secretary Has No Comment

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower headed into the agricultural midwest Wednesday night as an angry argument boiled up over his administration's farm policies.

The President, starting a six-day tour, left at 11:30 p.m. EST by train for Deane College in Ohio, where he will lay the cornerstone of a new library Thursday. Then he will go to Toledo and board a plane for Kansas City, where he will speak before a convention of the Future Farmers of America Thursday night.

There was no indication whether Eisenhower will touch on the controversial farm policy in his Kansas City speech a few hours after Secretary of Agriculture Benson speaks there.

Heavy political repercussions rolled up as an aftermath of a surprise Democratic election victory in Wisconsin, where the predominantly rural 9th District elected a Democrat to Congress for the first time in its history.

Democrats took pains to point out that the Republican loser, State Sen. Arthur L. Padrut, pegged his campaign to "four square" support of the Eisenhower administration.

The winner, Lester R. Johnson had denounced the administration's farm policy.

Some Republican leaders brushed the episode aside as a national issue, saying it was a national political picture. Others voiced serious misgivings and admitted it was a "jolt."

Democrats Glee
Democratic leaders, gleefully cheering the outcome, hailed it as a bellweather for Democratic victory in the 1954 congressional elections.

Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.), who campaigned for the winner, said the result showed "a general dissatisfaction with the farm, power and money policies of the administration."

Sen. Olin Johnston (D-SC) called for the ouster of Secretary of Agriculture Benson, declaring that farmers are "red hot" about what he called Benson's "do-nothingness."

"If President Eisenhower doesn't change his secretary of agriculture, and do it soon, he will sink with him," Johnston said.

Benson, who is scheduled to speak with Eisenhower at a meeting of the Future Farmers of America in Kansas City Thursday night, sent word to newsmen that he would have no comment on the Wisconsin vote.

Atty. Gen. Brownell, a major GOP strategist in last year's presidential campaign, told newsmen at a National Press Club luncheon that the Wisconsin result did not necessarily foreshadow GOP losses in next year's election.

Brownell Grins
"That district," he said, "is close to the Minnesota border and has always gone along with the Progressive Party."

"The result showed no change in the political complexion of that district."

There was a ripple of laughter through Brownell's audience, and the attorney general responded with a broad grin.

Both the winner and the loser in the Wisconsin contest were one-time members of the Progressive Party founded by the La Follettes.

In Chicago, Adlai E. Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic presidential candidate, said he was "delighted" at the Wisconsin result.

Sen. Wiley (R-Wis.), who resides in the Wisconsin 9th District, said the Democratic victory should "serve as a jolt to the Republican party—a jolt into constructive action."

Wiley said it means that Congress "must get down to business" at its next session and enact "concrete farm and other legislation."

He said it also means that next November "no Republican, particularly in the farm areas, can expect to win simply upon the high personal popularity of President Eisenhower."

'No Trend Shown In Wisconsin'

Agriculture Committee Members Unworried

By JOHN SWANSON
Star Farm Editor

NORFOLK, Neb. — Members of the House Agriculture Committee maintained here Wednesday that the election of Democrat Lester R. Johnson to the House of Representatives from a "normally Republican district in Wisconsin indicated nothing in the way of a national trend away from the GOP."

Only one of the members of the committee interviewed after a public hearing here on farm problems said the election indicated a possible shift toward the Democratic party. He was Committee Chairman Clifford R. Hope, Republican of Kansas.

The vote, Hope pointed out, could possibly be seen as an expression of dissatisfaction of the present agricultural policies of the Republican administration. He declined to elaborate on what criticism Wisconsin voters might have intended by the vote.

Comment Declined
Two of the Democratic members of the committee politely declined to comment on the unexpected party victory. All of the Democrats on the committee are from the south. One of them, Thomas A. B. Smith of Mississippi, smiled and said he didn't want to comment on the election, "while I am here in the midst of all my Republican friends."

John M. Hill of South Carolina, another Democrat, shortly declined to comment.

Rep. August Andresen of Minnesota, a Republican whose district adjoins that of new Rep. Lester Johnson in Wisconsin, said that both of the opponents in the campaign were former LaFollette followers. The late Congressman, Merlin Hull, Andresen added, was also a former LaFollette follower and progressive. Johnson maintained during the campaign that his vote would be along the same lines as were Hull's.

Pointing to this, Andresen said, "I don't call that a change in sentiment."

Time To Say
Karl King (R-Penn.) said, "This election might be significant but I would hate to say so definitely. I am not familiar with that district or with what the issues were."

Ralph Harvey (R-Ind.) said, "This is not particularly significant. Johnson promised the voters he would vote the same as Hull."

Page Belcher (R-Okla.) said, "There is no way in which a local special election can be called significant nationally. There just isn't the pull of an election year. In the last 20 years I'll bet that we Republicans won four out of five special elections but after the general elections had rolled around we were no better off than we were before."

The one Nebraskan on the committee, Republican Robert Harrison of Norfolk, was not available for comment after the hearing.

—Committee Probe—

Answers Will Be Required

Agency Heads Given Power To Fire Any Reluctant Witness

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government made two major moves Wednesday to loosen the tongues of witnesses who refuse to testify before Congressional committees "because the answer might tend to incriminate me."

President Eisenhower gave agency heads the right to fire any government employees who use that excuse.

Atty. Gen. Brownell said the administration itself will ask Congress next year for legislation permitting him to grant immunity from prosecution in some cases as a means of forcing witnesses to testify.

Brownell protested earlier this year against a Senate bill which would have given Congressional committees themselves the right to grant immunity.

The Senate eventually passed—but the House failed to act on—a measure which would have given either Senate or House the power to grant such immunity despite objections of the attorney general.

Numerous witnesses before Congressional committees, especially during probes of racketeering and communist activity, have refused to answer questions. They relied on a provision of the Fifth Amendment to the Constitution that no man "shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself."

Many Cited

A number of balking witnesses have been cited for contempt of Congress, but the courts have freed most of them on their contention that their testimony before Congress could be used against them in a later criminal prosecution.

If immunity against such prosecution were provided, the witness presumably could be forced to answer or face a contempt conviction.

Eisenhower amended the security order he issued last April to permit discharge of government employees who refuse to answer questions. He added that to the already-existing grounds such as espionage, association with subversives, habitual and excessive drinking, and sexual perversion.

None of these brings automatic dismissal, but is a basis for discharge, subject to appeal under established procedure.

Brownell, who addressed the National Press Club a short time after Eisenhower's order was issued, said a government employee like anyone else has a right to claim his privilege against self-incrimination.

"But on the other hand," he added, "no one has a constitutional right to a government job."

Not The Reason

The new order was issued in the midst of a Senate investigation of alleged security leaks from the Ft. Monmouth, N. J., Army Signal Corps laboratory, but Brownell told newsmen it was not inspired by that probe.

Secretary of the Army Stevens already had announced that any Army civilian employee who refused to answer questions there would be "summarily suspended." The President's new order now permits their discharge.

Kitchen Fire Damages Walls, Cupboards

Fast Work Extinguishes Kitchen Fire

A kitchen fire, started by overheated drippings in which shrimp were frying, shot up the side of the wall damaging the stove, cupboards and walls at the Ike Wheeler residence at 3028 Cable early Wednesday evening.

The blaze was discovered by Little Sellers who smelled smoke while watching television in the Wheeler living room. Mrs. Wheeler rushed to the fire.

Firemen rushed to the residence after an alarm had been sounded, but arrived after Mrs. Wheeler and her cooking pan had extinguished the fire.

Benson To Ask Advice On Support Move

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson said Wednesday night he is asking livestock and meat industry leaders for advice before he decides whether to place choice cattle under a direct price support program.

(The Nebraska Livestock Feeders Association, Wednesday went on record as "emphatically opposing any direct price support program pertaining to livestock.")

The secretary, in a telegram to Chairman Hope (R-Kan.) of the House Agriculture Committee said, however, the department's analysis indicates such a program "would involve administrative actions of great magnitude and of a complex nature."

Benson previously has said such a program would be too costly and impractical to undertake.

His telegram was sent in response to resolutions Hope's committee adopted last Saturday calling for increased purchases of beef to support the low grade cattle market and urging a price support program on choice grades until Dec. 31, 1954.

Hankins To Head Livestock Feeders

NORFOLK, Neb. (AP)—M. J. Hankins of Stanton was elected president of the Nebraska Livestock Feeders Association at its 11th annual convention here.

Ray Baxter, Grand Island, was chosen first vice president; Robert Mattenbrick, Grand Island, second vice president; Don Magdanz, Pierce, secretary; and William Green, Grand Island, treasurer.

News Around The Globe

Flow Of Secrets Reported

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Tribune said Wednesday night a refugee scientist from the Russian zone in Germany has furnished evidence to U.S. military intelligence that America's radar defense secrets flowed in a steady stream to Russia.

The scientist's disclosures, the Tribune said in a New York datelined copyrighted story by Willard Edwards, set up the search for spies at the secret radar research center of the Army Signal Corps at Ft. Monmouth, N. J.

Sixteen months ago, the Tribune said, a German scientist who had been forced into labor in the electronics laboratory in the Russian zone of Germany fled into the American zone.

During questioning by a U.S. Air Force technical officer the German remarked he had many microfilmed copies of documents from the Evans laboratory.

Three Yanks Held Progress Told

VIENNA (INS)—Some 600 ragged and unshaven Austrians returned from Soviet captivity Wednesday and reported they met three Americans in a repatriation camp north of Moscow.

The returnees, most of whom had been sentenced to 25 years for "war crimes," said that the three Americans had been notified of their pending release.

Red Agents Active

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Assistant Secretary of State Walter S. Robertson said Wednesday night the Communists are striving to move secret agents into South Korea in a continuing drive to take over the peninsula despite the cease-fire on the battlefield.

In a speech to the Chamber of Commerce, Robertson pledged that the United States will keep its promises to rebuild South Korea militarily and economically if a peace conference leaves the North and Southern parts still divided.

U.S. Rejects Fund

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (INS)—The United States rejected United Nations proposals Wednesday for a billion-dollar global fund to foster new economic development projects abroad and declared that the American taxpayer is in a mood to halt "illusory" spending.

U. S. Delegate James D. Zellerbach told the U.N. Economic Committee that the American government is "not now prepared" to contribute to a new multi-million dollar international development fund to promote the advancement of backward areas.

War Chest Set Up

WASHINGTON (INS)—The AFL Executive Council set up a $200,000 war chest Wednesday for a "fight to the finish" organizing drive to bring the nation's 60,000 dockworkers into the new AFL-chartered longshoremen's union.

The council, in a two-hour closed session, said it will "devote its full strength to the attainment of this objective."

Saunders Dies

MEMPHIS (AP)—Clarence Saunders, who revolutionized the grocery business with his Piggly Wiggly stores and twice made and lost a fortune, died Wednesday in the midst of plans for a comeback. He was 72.

He had been critically ill two weeks. Death was attributed to a heart attack.

Hotel Plaza Sold

NEW YORK (AP)—Conrad N. Hilton, president of the Hilton Hotel Corp., announced the sale Wednesday of the fashionable Hotel Plaza for 15 million dollars to a corporation headed by A. M. Sonnabend, Boston hotel man. Terms of the sale include a leaseback whereby the Hilton Corp. will operate the hotel for 2½ years until the new owner, the Fifty-Ninth Street Corp., takes over.

Lawton Trying To Clean Up Mess—McCarthy

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) said Wednesday night the commanding general at Ft. Monmouth, N. J., where a scientist friend of atom spy Julius Rosenberg took secret documents from Signal Corps files, is trying to "clean up the mess."

May Gen. Kirke Lawton was called before a special night session of McCarthy's Senate Investigations Subcommittee after an unidentified witness testified "it was common practice" to take secret documents home simply by signing for them.

McCarthy said he wanted to ask Lawton "who is responsible for such a loose practice."

The senator did not identify his earlier witness but said he was a "top scientist" recently suspended from his job at the Signal Corps laboratory at Ft. Monmouth.

McCarthy said Gen. Lawton, who took command at Ft. Monmouth after the period involved in the scientist's testimony, is "conducting a vigorous campaign to clean up the mess he found when he took over at Monmouth." (Story on missing document disclosure on Page 8.)

Preble Again Heads State Labor Group

SCOTT'S BLUFF, Neb. (AP)—Gordon C. Preble was re-elected to serve a seventh term as president of the Nebraska State Federation of Labor at the group's 44th annual convention closed here Wednesday.

Omaha was chosen as the 1954 convention city and Lincoln will be convention host in 1955.

Others re-elected to the executive board were Robert Johnston of Lincoln, first vice president; Jack Renault of Scottsbluff, second vice president; Fay Bowerman of Omaha, third vice president; E. F. Noble of Grand Island, secretary-treasurer; and Alvin G. Kostlan of Omaha, sergeant of arms.

New officers are Conrad Krieger of Grand Island, fourth vice president, and Mrs. Harold (Billie) Martin of Fremont, fifth vice president.

The Wednesday session was addressed by James Weasmer, state commissioner of labor. Weasmer outlined the purposes and services of the department's two divisions safety and employment security.

McLain At Gering; To Get Attorney Soon

SCOTT'S BLUFF, Neb. (AP)—Sheridan County Attorney John Keriakides said at Hay Springs Wednesday that an attorney will be appointed soon to represent Duane McLain, 19, Rushville youth who has confessed the Aug. 20 slaying of a 13-year-old Rushville schoolgirl, Karen Talbot.

Keriakides said that District Judge Earl E. Meyer of Alliance has indicated he will appoint an attorney to represent the youth soon.

Young McLain is being held in the Scotts Bluff County Jail at Gering it was revealed. He is without sufficient funds to engage legal counsel, the Sheridan County attorney said. Keriakides said he did not know when Judge Meyer will appoint counsel for the youth or exactly what the next step would be in bringing the case to a conclusion.

Keriakides also said that a report submitted by Dr. W. O. Brown, Scottsbluff pathologist, said "pathological evidence obtained from examination of the dead girl's body shows that no rape was committed."

McLain pleaded guilty to a first degree murder charge during a pre-dawn county court hearing at Rushville last Saturday after he had led authorities to a spot in a Sandhills pasture where he had buried Karen's body after he shot her fatally the night of Aug. 20 following a struggle when she resisted an attempt to kiss her.

Congressmen Hear State Farmers

Willard Grant, speaking for the Nebraska-Iowa Milk Producers Association, said that the industry requires "uniform enforcement of agricultural marketing acts to prevent a chaotic condition in the milk industry."

Another speaker before the hearing was Walter Chase of Platteville, an advisor for credit firms. He said farm policies should be "to encourage establishment of farm co-ops, but should give them no special advantages, once the co-ops were on their feet."

A. E. Wickkey of Morrill said farm marketing methods have not improved along with other aspects of agriculture. He asked that a system be set to equalize cattle marketing, preventing markets from being glutted one day and short of cattle the next.

Harold Besack of Beatrice said the county PMA setup should be made more democratic, and the candidates for PMA county committees should be open to a wider choice by farmers.

Ernest Strate of Hoskins said, "We need confidence in the cattle industry. What is happening to the industry today is really happening within us. We have just lost confidence."

Speaking of the new administration, Strate said, "I hope they haven't forgotten their promise to help us. They said they would just fall. Now I don't know."

The Feeders Association went on record as "emphatically opposing" the practice of major packing companies of engaging in actual livestock feeding operations. They termed this practice "encroachment by giant corporations on the business of small farmer feeders creating an intolerable situation tending toward the creation of monopoly."

The Association has moved to form a committee which will bring this matter to the attention of the U. S. Department of Justice. They will urge an investigation and the taking of "appropriate action."

By J. GORDON ROBERTS

Mr. Chodorov's address before the "School of Living" is continued:

"Thus, a government attaches itself to society, to the aggregation of individuals who cooperate and associate for their mutual advantage. Whatever records we have men known to be versed in the unwritten law, and whose probity was beyond reproach. The decision of the judge was final. Yet, he had no police to enforce his decision. Social ostracism was sufficient to achieve compliance."

"Government consists of persons. These persons are invested with the monopoly of coercion. That is their only functional difference from the other members of the community. In all other respects they are like other human beings, trying to better their circumstances and to widen their horizon with the least expenditure of labor."

"Therein lies the weakness and dangers of government. Its purely human composition renders it subject to all the frailties of other humans, while the monopoly of coercion it enjoys suggests to the officials a means of bettering their circumstances at the minimum expenditure of labor."

S. M. Brownell New U.S. Education Head AT MILLER'S

Ike Picks Native Of Nebraska

Dr. Samuel M. Brownell, Connecticut educator and former Nebraskan, has been appointed U.S. Commissioner of Education by President Eisenhower, the Associated Press said.

Brownell is a son of Mrs. Herbert Brownell Sr. of Lincoln and brother of Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr.

Mrs. Brownell Sr., who lives at 2045 Brownell, on being told of her son's appointment, said, "That's grand. It is quite an honor to have two of our boys in such high positions."

Brownell, whose nomination is subject to confirmation by the Senate after it meets in January, is 53, a Republican and a native of Peru, Neb.

NU Graduate
He received his Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Nebraska in 1921 where he was a member of Phi Beta Kappa and the Innocents Society. He is married to the former Esther Denzell, a native of Peru. The Brownells have four children.

Brownell holds master's and doctor's degrees from Yale University. Following graduation from Yale in 1926, he served for two years on the New York State College faculty in Albany. He was then superintendent of schools at Grosse Pointe, Mich. In 1933 he returned to Yale as professor of educational administration. He held this position until 1947 when he was appointed acting president of New Haven (Conn.) State Teachers College.

He was named to the federal education post to succeed the late Lee M. Thurston of Michigan. Salary for the position is $14,800 a year.

Treatment Of Frostbite, Tourniquet Use Changed

The Red Cross is instituting major changes in the treatment of frostbite and the use of tourniquets, Lloyd Jenkins, Lancaster County Red Cross safety chairman announced.

Frostbite and prolonged exposure to cold treatment now includes quick warmth by use of blankets and warm baths.

Tourniquets should now be placed close to the wound and released when the injured person reaches a physician. It should be used only for severe life-threatening hemorrhages.

Council Kills Cotner, Adams Zone Change

An ordinance on third reading to change from residence A to local business zoning property at the southeast corner of Cotner and Adams has failed to pass the City Council.

With Mayor Clark Jeary absent, the council vote was a three to three tie. Against the change were Councilmen Pat Ash and Hugh Thorne and Councilwoman Mrs. Fern Hubbard Orme.

Arguments in behalf of the change were presented by Atty. Lloyd Marti. Marti reported it was intended to erect one of the "most modern and finest" filling stations on the property.

The station, he said, would be an improvement to surrounding property rather than a detriment.

200 Protest
Speaking against the change were Bill Graves, 2949 No. Cotner and Max Arnold, 2941 No. Cotner. A petition bearing some 200 signatures was also on file against the change.

Two other protested ordinances were held for further study by the council. One was for creation of a water district in Daves from 12th to 14th.

The other delayed ordinance establishes a paving district in Greenwood from 56th to 58th, Knox from 56th to 58th and 58th, Knox to Greenwood. The following ordinances were approved:

Including within the corporate limits of the city the intersection of 31st and Calvert, Taving of Vine, 40th to 45th and 40th, Vine to W.

Paving of Curtis Dr., 42nd to Wittman Willows and 42nd, High to the south line of Wittman Willows.

Paving of the alley between 13th and 14th and Van Dorn and Hill.
Water in Gladstone, 44th to 45th.
Dedication of Summer through Roberts Park.

Three ordinances were introduced on first reading. They are:
Replat of Jones Place, six lots at the intersection of 35th and Lake.
Replat of three lots at Stockwell and Woods Blvd. in Country Club Terrace.
Paving of Smith, 35th to 36th.

Mental Hygiene Program At Nebraska U Discussed
With more than 20 different patients examined for mental hygiene weekly by the student health service at the University of Nebraska, Dr. I. W. Brill, chief of the mental hygiene services, believes that the new program has "every expectation of success."

Dr. Brill spoke at a meeting sponsored by the Lincoln Mental Health Society at the National Bank of Commerce board room.

He said that his department is oriented for the greatest good to the greatest number of students.

Iranian Studying State Highways

Jaffar Afshar Jeffari of the Iranian ministry of roads is spending 40 days in Nebraska studying operation of the state highway department. He later will spend two months observing operations in Texas. His trip is sponsored by the Point Four program of the U.S. State Department.

This country is familiar to the Iranian engineer who attended preparatory school in Massachusetts and has two degrees from Harvard. While at Harvard he volunteered as an ambulance driver in World War I and later was in the U.S. Army.

We Like A Band

Frequently there has been reference in this column to the valuable contribution resulting from increasing emphasis upon musical training in the schools of Nebraska. Scores and scores of them are maintaining outstanding orchestras and bands.

It is Band Day at the University of Nebraska. On that occasion 3,600 high school students representing 65 high schools will be guests of the University of Nebraska at the football game—will be entertained at lunch by the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce—and will on their own part provide a colorful, arresting spectacle between halves.

There may be better football games on occasions than those which mark Band Day. That is on the lap of the gods, and may the gods smile on the Huskers next Saturday. But there is no finer spectacle during the football season than Band Day provides.

'On Wisconsin'

Just how mad—how disillusioned—how uneasy are the farmers of the great food-producing states of the Middle West?

It is possible to get a million answers to that question, embodying an amazing variety of opinions. A congressional district in Wisconsin, essentially a rural district, gave its own answer Tuesday in a special election to fill a vacancy caused by the death of the man whom it had elected and re-elected time and again. In party affiliation, that man had been listed as a Republican. For the first time in the history of that district, the voters Tuesday chose a Democrat, not by a thin margin but by a rather substantial, thumping vote. And the Republican candidate for Congress, conceding defeat, explained his defeat by saying that the farmer and the laborer were dissatisfied with the policies of the Eisenhower administration.

The reader will be reminded of the old saw that "One drop of water does not make an ocean." There may have been factors in the Wisconsin election unknown to the rest of the country sufficient to offset the embattled plea of Republicans from Gov. Kohler, and up and down, to uphold the hands of President Eisenhower.

The late Rep. Hull whose post in the House was being filled was quite a man in the eyes of the voters of his district. He held his seat in Congress in his own right—not by virtue of a Republican President—and possibly not by virtue of the dominant Republican organization in Wisconsin. He was a liberal Republican, so we have been told, in the basic tradition of the LaFollettes. He was not an Eisenhower coattail-hanger—no coattail-hanger of any kind—but a popular figure known to every man, woman and child in his district.

Yet it is impossible to brush aside the fact

Of Men And Things

There was a meeting in Lincoln Monday night at which the proposal to scrap the Nebraska Unicameral and to substitute for it the old two-house legislature elected on a partisan basis was discussed. It brought out a capacity attendance. The interest shown was most gratifying if it can be agreed that a constitutional amendment to be submitted to the voters of Nebraska is of prime concern to the people.

There is the assurance that the campaign against the Unicameral will have the valuable support of the powerful, closely-knit, effective Republican organization in Nebraska under the leadership of Republican State Chairman Dave Martin. It has been quite an obsession with Mr. Martin. He never will be content, it appears, until he can say: "I killed Cock Robin"—meaning that he got rid of the Unicameral. He does not like it. A lot of politicians do not like it. It is not their idea of how legislation should be handled. So it would not be surprising if with the full endorsement of the Republican party organization, Chairman Martin would recruit the help of party workers on down the line to every precinct to procure the signatures necessary to place the proposal for a two-house legislature on the ballot. In this, Mr. Martin may be aided and abetted not only by his party associates but by Democratic politicians. Well, there is nothing improper or wrong in permitting people to express themselves if it is their desire to vote on the issue of scrapping the Unicameral to return to the two-house legislative system tossed out nearly 20 years ago.

We trust that the discussion will be full, comprehensive, intelligent, and frank. Those conditions were met fully Monday night with the exception that the Democratic proponents of the proposed legislative change failed to put in an appearance and to present their side of the argument.

One element—in the judgment of this writer, an inherent abuse in the proposed re-establishment of the two-house legislature chosen on a partisan basis—escaped attention in the Monday night discussion. It is the conference committee. Thousands and thousands of young voters have come of voting age since the unicameral system was adopted in this state. They have had no practical contact with the device called the conference committee. Under parliamentary rules the conference committee's report is not subject to amendment on the floor. It cannot even be discussed. Each house votes either to accept or reject—and that is that. Now there has been a great deal of talk about the Unicameral as a lobbyist's paradise. The chief difference today under the Unicameral and during the days of the two-house legislature, it seems to us, is that under the two-house it took infinitely more lobbyists and more lobby activity. And if there is a lobbyist's paradise, then the lobbyist himself could ask for no greater gift than the mechanical device which the conference committee symbolizes. There the old technique of divide-and-conquer comes to its finest flower—there the opportunity exists for a handful of men to so rewrite legislation in the cloistered atmosphere of the conference committee meetings that the original authors would not even recognize their own child.

There is abundant time for full discussion. Frequently, it seems, it is not the politicians' way to encourage discussion. He likes to give orders and understandably he likes to see them obeyed.

that understandably some of the shine of a popular American idol has worn thin. The thing that has impressed us in this Wisconsin election is that the state is one of those in the Midwest which has enjoyed abundant rainfall throughout the crop season. It has not suffered from drought. It has been lush and green throughout the summer—abundant moisture in timely distribution—so the Wisconsin election cannot be charged to the natural reactions to be expected in the stress and the hardships of a curtailed crop season.

There is no escape from the conclusion that a substantial segment of the pro-Eisenhower press is feverishly and vainly undertaking to perpetuate a fiction. They keep saying day after day that the farmers are a bit disgruntled with Secretary Benson but they do not blame Ike, and they idolize Ike as much as ever. His popularity, they say, remains undiminished.

That does not reflect a great deal of credit upon the farmer. It makes him appear rather stupid.

Who named Benson in the first place? Did the administration simply reach into a hat and haul the name of Benson out of it? If it did, then what is to be said of the technique of choosing a key appointee in the Eisenhower administration?

Who stands by and if he is watching, turns an attentive ear to the mounting outcry in the rural areas of many of these midwestern states?

A pro-Eisenhower press is not doing the President any real service by assuring him day by day that there may be murmurs against Benson but the President's popularity remains unchanged. The Dakotas, Minnesota, Iowa, Illinois, and portions of Indiana and Ohio had plenty of rainfall. The cries that are mounting in those states are not the fruits of a drought but represent a basic disagreement with the Eisenhower administration of farm policy, if in the increasing uncertainty there is a farm policy. What is being done does not square with what the average farm voter thought would be done in the declaration of intention made by the President during the campaign last fall.

Strangely, sections infinitely more affected by drought—portions of Nebraska—much of Kansas—all of Missouri—considerable areas of Oklahoma, Colorado, Texas, Arizona, New Mexico, Arkansas, Tennessee and Kentucky—are less articulate in expressing their opinion than the rural Wisconsin district was Tuesday.

What are the peoples of states sorely afflicted by drought thinking? Have they an administration that even starts to understand the farm problem? This paper feels that if Mr. Eisenhower is to confirm what he led people to believe in his campaign a year ago, he either will force Secretary Benson to revise his thinking or replace Mr. Benson. This paper feels that on the basis of all the available evidence, it is a departure from common sense to conclude that there is any basic, fundamental difference between the approach of Secretary Benson towards a farm policy and the thinking of President Eisenhower.

Doctors Disagree

At Minneapolis early this week, where Rep. Clifford Hope's Congressional Agriculture Committee conducted the first of a series of plain states hearings on farm program thinking, there was a confusion of tongues. The Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation supported Agriculture Secretary Benson's attack on rigid high supports for basic crops. The Minnesota Farmers Union said the high supports must be continued. A third voice, the Minnesota State Grange, disagreed with both. It urged the two-price system of approach. Each spoke according to its settled policy and contributed little more than has previously been heard from them.

This leaves the Hope committee about "where it came in." What it was trying to learn is not where organized agriculture stands, but which plan of the three represented the most widespread conviction of the majority of farmers. What is lacking in the hearings thus far is greater participation by the farmer himself. He has a wonderful opportunity to help shape his future, but he must become vocal to do it. A negative position can make the future farm program a piece of guesswork with as much of a chance to deliver a detriment to agriculture and the country as to provide an improvement. And that is too big a chance to take.

DREW PEARSON

GOP Solons Irked By Benson Foot-Dragging

WASHINGTON—House Speaker Joe Martin not only preaches economy, but practices it.

He's calling today (Thursday) on the SS America for a private "look see" throughout Germany, Italy and France; and, as top man in the House of Representatives, he could have found a dozen easy excuses to make the trip "official." Thus have the taxpayers' foot the bill. But he didn't.

"A funny thing happened the other day," Martin told friends. "I got a call from the State Department. They'd heard about my trip to Europe and phoned to ask me to do a couple of special favors for them over there."

"They told me what they wanted and I agreed to help them out. Then this fellow at the State Department thanked me and said that he hoped I'd understand how much they appreciated my cooperation but that because of the economy wave they wouldn't be able to pay any of my expenses for helping them out."

"I don't mind that," Speaker Martin said with a wry smile. "However, I certainly hope this Republican economy wave isn't just going to start and stop with Joe Martin!"

DEMOCRATS TO BE INDICTED

The Justice Department is working on an imposing list of indictments including several Democrats which, according to present schedule, will be popped on the public about the first of the year.

The list will include a number of Democratic lawyers who once worked for the government and who have now taken cases against the government on behalf of the same clients they once prosecuted. Also on the schedule is the trial of former Democratic Congressman Vincent Quinn of Staten Island, N. Y., who was an assistant attorney general under Truman and is charged with taking a case against the government while he was in Congress.

The plan is to bring out these indictments at about the time Congress will be back in session and when the Democrats are expected to take a more aggressive stand against the Eisenhower administration. The Republican answer will be a parade of prosecutions featuring former members of the Truman administration.

Among the cases the Justice Department is working on are the tanker deals in which some government-owned tankers were transferred to foreign registry.

Also on the list of possible prosecutions is the author of a letter written during the last election campaign in which Vice President Nixon is referred to as the recipient of $50,000 from an oil company in 1950 when first elected to the Senate.

The Justice Department has reason to believe that the letter is a forgery and subordinate officials have recommended that the writer of the letter be prosecuted. Higher officials so far have shied away from prosecution. It might open old wounds and public memories of the Nixon $18,000 private expense fund.

Among the Democratic lawyers being scrutinized for violation of Section 24 of the Criminal Code is a former assistant attorney general who, according to an investigation by the Chief Committee, later represented some of the companies which he prosecuted while in the government.

On the other hand, Democratic senators are set to ask some embarrassing questions of the Justice Department regarding failure to act on the Maryland 1950 elections. Senators Monroney of Oklahoma and Hennings of Missouri, who spent months as members of the Senate Elections Committee probing the McCarthy attacks on Sen. Tydings in Maryland, are interested in knowing why there has been no action on the lengthy report they sent to the Justice Department.

Also some Democratic senators are disconcerted enough to ask questions about Sen. Bricker's law firm, which gets lush fees from the Pennsylvania railroad—if the Justice Department lines up too many Democrats for a judicial firing squad.

IRATE CONGRESSMEN

Ohio's powerful GOP Congressman Clarence Brown is furious about the Agriculture Department's delay in assisting drought-stricken farmers in southern Ohio. Phoning Agriculture Undersecretary True Morse the other day, Brown gave him a verbal blast.

"Those farmers haven't had any rain since mid-July," he stormed. "They have to truck water to their dairy herds. Their costs are mounting, they're getting less for their milk and the price has just been increased to the consumer. I want some prompt action by your department to help these farmers."

NOTE—What irks congressmen about the drought is that Charley Brannan, when secretary of agriculture, put through immediate drought relief in the form of hay, sold at cost, without waiting for pressure from Congress. In contrast, the present Department of Agriculture has delayed until herds have been jeopardized and an irate roar of anguish has come in from the drought areas. Congressman Brown, a Republican, thinks a Republican secretary of agriculture could do better.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Ike's Health Is Good Despite Many Rumors

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower is 63 years old. His birthday coincided with widespread reports about his health and the start of a speech-making tour taking him into a half dozen states and briefly into Mexico. The reports on the President's health may be no more than a reflection of the jittery atmosphere of our times, a part of the rumor-mongering that thrives in an uncertain era. Any country traveling through the country from Washington discovers quickly that the rumors about the President are nation-wide.

The visitor from Washington is asked whether the President has a heart condition, whether he has hyper-tension. When such queries are put to James C. Hagerty, presidential press secretary, he replies that President Eisenhower is in good health and that his brief bout with intestinal "flu" is nothing more than what millions of other citizens suffer on occasion.

At the White House the blame for the rumors is put on the reports of two commentators who are said to have first circulated them. But this hardly seems a sufficient explanation. And certainly the rumors are disquieting. The President's personal physician is Maj. Gen. Howard C. Snyder (retired). Gen. Snyder has been close to the President for eight years. The relationship between them is not merely that of patient and physician. It is one of close friendship.

Snyder was with Eisenhower during the latter's two years as supreme commander of the NATO defense organization at SHAPE headquarters outside Paris. He came back with the Eisenhower in June of 1952. And during virtually the entire campaign a year ago, Snyder rode the campaign train and was at the side of his friend.

Gen. Snyder watches over the with the tenderness a mother hen lavishes on a chick. At the slightest intimation of a cold he administers a special pill of his own formula intended to head it off. It is from Snyder that the assurance came as to excellent state of the President's health.

The President's physician received his medical training first in Utah, where, after graduation, he became a contract surgeon with the Army. Later he graduated with honors from the Army Medical School in Washington. During World War II he was assistant to the inspector general of the Army, touring all theaters of the war. He is 72 years old.

To the casual and occasional observer, Eisenhower gives every evidence of being in good health. At his last press conference he had a good color and a jaunty, bouncy look. He had, of course, only recently returned from Colorado where he enjoyed about 10 days of full time vacation and six weeks of golf mixed with the routine of appointments, correspondence and the other insistent claims of the most demanding and impossible office in the world.

What much of the speculation and the rumor may get down to is the fact that beneath his outwardly easy and even hearty exterior, Eisenhower is a far more complicated individual than is generally realized. The stresses and strains imposed by the presidency are simply unknowable even to those close to the man who finds himself caught in the center of a complex of power and responsibility radiating out into every corner of the world.

Rumors of the state of President Roosevelt's health circulated from the early days of the first of his four terms. This was, due in part, of course, to the infirmity he suffered as a result of infantile paralysis. The rumors grew in intensity as Roosevelt announced that he would run for a fourth term. The White House said repeatedly that he was in normal good health. These statements were made on the assurance of his physician, Adm. Ross McIntire.

President Truman during his nearly eight years in the White House was subjected to many kinds of rumor-mongering as is every President. But his health was not the foundation of these rumors, since he was so obviously made of something indestructible.

In April just before his speech to the American Society of Newspaper Editors in December, he suffered what was described as food poisoning. He was at that time resting and golfing at Augusta, Ga. Despite his illness, he flew to Washington to deliver the most important speech of his months in the White House up to the time of the current speaking tour. He looked, however, during the editors' luncheon drawn and gray. Within a short time he appeared to be entirely recovered.

The President is sensitive on the score of the amount of news devoted to his golf. He complained to a visitor recently that the papers seemed to report nothing but his golf scores. The ordeal of the presidency is such that no one can begrudge Eisenhower his efforts to relax. Certain American Indian tribes made their Braves run a gauntlet of fire and torture. We do something like that to our Presidents.

MAN'S BEST FRIEND

A Veteran Traveler And Show Dog

By ALLEN EDEE

The Jack Beards of 3645 So. 36th will always remember Sandemac, Mich.

It was there that a new dachshund champion was recognized. It was there that "Eva" received her vital 15th and extra 16th points.

The good news closely followed a disappointment for the Beards. "Eva's" handler, Bill Stark, had previously wired that their dog had become a champion, only to wire again that he had miscounted "Eva's" required points. There was one point lacking.

Sandemac took care of that. Two - and - a-half-year-old "Eva" is a veteran female show dog. Out of the 19 shows in states of Michigan, Minnesota, Illinois, Iowa and Wisconsin as well as Nebraska, the smooth-haired dachshund has won points at nine shows. This may seem like a mediocre percentage of wins until the expert dog handlers point out that two out of five wins are considered better than average.

With all the road travel "Eva" undergoes in wooden crates, her physical condition would seem to suffer. But, no, she was happy and well cared for on return to the Beards as when she left. The elongated canine handles nicely at the shows and is not nervous. One of the reasons why "Eva" has fared so well on her trips is that she is of an exceedingly affectionate temperament to the extent that she will even stop eating to be petted.

Despite the sophisticated atmosphere of the show ring, where the poised and well groomed all vie for top dog, "Eva" has her fun side.

One of her more pixie-like stunts was to unscrew the lid of the peanut butter jar and take the bread out of the bread box at such times.

How "Eva" ever did the trick was a puzzle to the Beards, but they were even more puzzled to find, instead of a drooping head in shame, an angelic blank look on the face of little "Eva."

MRS. JACK BEARD, WITH 'LAUNCITA' (LEFT) AND 'EVA' (RIGHT) ... bread and peanut butter in one raid ...

Although the Beards say that "Eva" will continue to be shown occasionally, her main future role will be that of a mother. The two-and-a-half-year-old already has a litter of five to her credit including 14-month-old "Launcita" who has already started to take local honors as a puppy.

The Beards interest in dachshunds dates back four years. How that interest has grown is shown by the fact that not only do they find themselves with a champion, but Mrs. Beard is the treasurer of the National Miniature Dachshund Club as well as director and columnist for local dog clubs.

A Correction

St. Paul, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The Statehouse reporter in his column Sunday referred to the appeal made by Howard County of its tax assessment increase. In this article he said that the reason for this was that all the county officials except the county attorney, R. J. Haggart, were Democrats.

We suggest that the reporter spend a little more time with the facts instead of Republican-inspired fiction. The facts are that the appeal was made by the three-man board of county commissioners. Two of these commissioners are Republicans. They are Martin Christensen of Boelus and Frank Komsak of Elba. Elmer Oakeson of St. Paul is the lone Democrat. In fairness to Howard County, we suggest that a retraction and correction of this false story be printed.

No Preference

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: For The Star's information, the following statement has been incorporated in the minutes of a special meeting of the board of trustees of Sanitary District No. 1, held October 14, 1953:

Whereas, a local press report states "Members of the district's committee . . . have shown a preference for the hiring of Black & Veatch, Kansas City, Mo., consulting engineers," Sanitary District No. 1's committee on trunk sewer planning states that it, as a committee, has expressed no such preference and states further that the committee is open to the consideration of any engineers, local or otherwise.

Omaha, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: "On the whole, the Unicameral of Nebraska, over 11 sessions, has given a good account of itself." This quote is from the report of Roger Shumate, a report given after exhaustive investigation and which is replete with points pro and con.

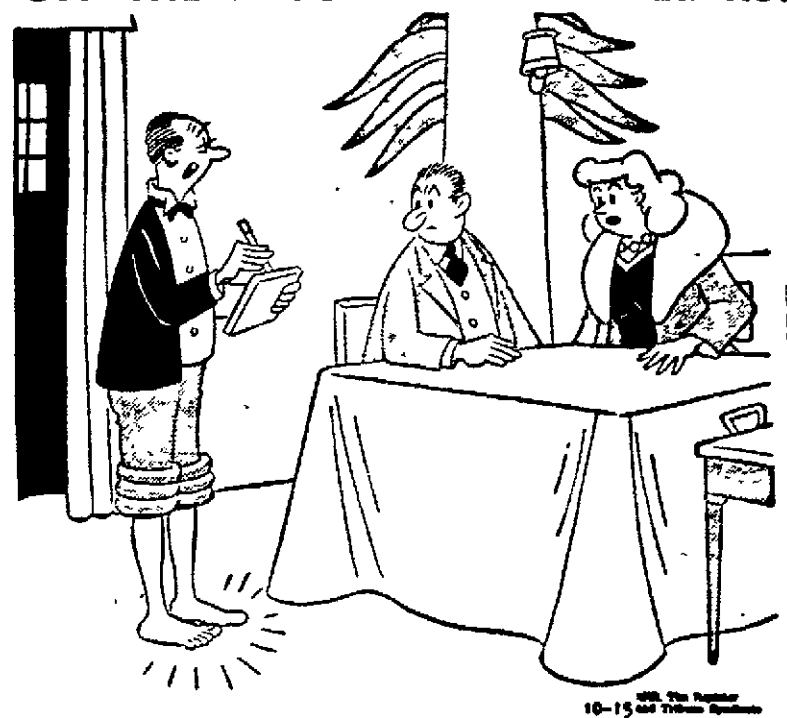

Most thoughtful people would agree with that conservative conclusion. I for one accept that evaluation; yet on the principle that we Nebraskans deserve only the best, would strive for refinements as time goes on. Within the "one-cam" there should be built in such devices as would help the senators when they strike tough going as they did in the last two sessions.

By no means should we be stumped into reverting to the "two-cam" legislature. Many people have a dim notion that legislatures have to be "two-cam." This notion probably derived from acquaintance with the British Parliament, though it is a fact that that body is in practice a "one-cam," has been for a long time.

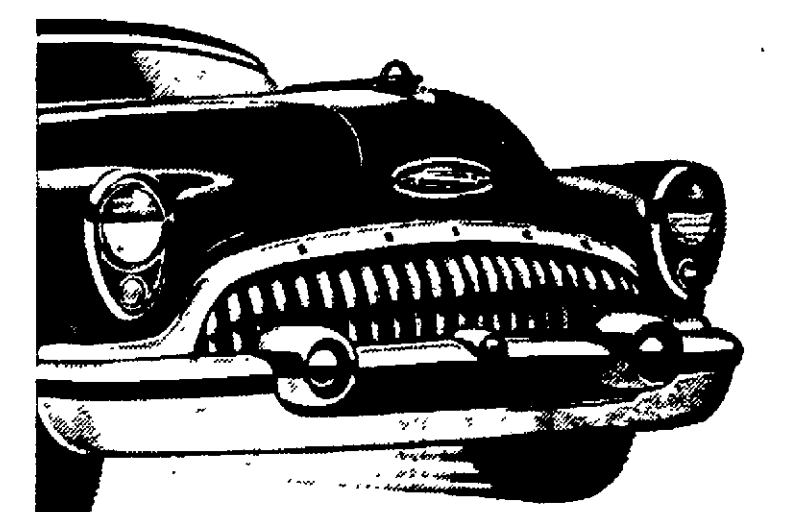

Few people know that the "one-cam" representative body is honorably and efficiently in

Inmate Whose Escape Stirred Posse Hunt Gets Another Year

A Nebraska Penitentiary inmate, Robert L. Grantham, 28, formerly of Omaha, pleaded not guilty in Lancaster District Court to a charge of prison escape and was sentenced to an additional year in the Penitentiary.

Grantham had been awaiting trial during the forthcoming jury session after earlier entering a plea of not guilty.

Court-appointed counsel for Grantham requested a "concurrent sentence be considered," which was rejected by Judge

Ankeny "in view of the record." Grantham and another inmate, who walked off a Penitentiary powerhouse detail on July 5, were captured 14 hours later by a 150-man posse which combed the Crete vicinity with planes, cars, and horses.

The other escapee pleaded guilty when arraigned and was sentenced to one year on July 7. At the time of his escape Grantham was serving a two-year sentence for burglary given by Douglas County on July 7, 1952.

Council Okays Land Exchange

The City Council has approved a contract with the Board of Education for the acquisition and exchange of land to pave the way for construction of the southeast diagonal and the Lincoln High School activities building.

The contract calls for the purchase of 26 parcels of private land and the exchange of additional city and school properties between the two subdivisions. The school board has set a ceiling of $80,000 on the amount it will pay on the project, with the total cost to be split between the city and school district.

The contract calls for the closing of Randolph and construction of a by-pass from 21st and G to 25th and Randolph. In the existing Randolph right-of-way the district plans to erect the new activities building.

Nebraska Shrubs Make Top Dry Arrangements

The Garden Club of Lincoln was told at Morrill Hall that native Nebraska shrubs with their beautiful color and red and brown berries make outstanding dry arrangements.

The speaker, Dr. Victor Miller, pointed out two of the most popular native shrubs—Wahoo Euonymus and American Rattle Nut.

Dr. Miller explaining why leaves turn color, said the green is drawn out of the leaf by a chemical process. This leaves a yellow that was already there but covered up by the green.

Protests Dismissed

Rainwater Given 30 Days, $100 Fine On Assault Charge

M. Sgt. George E. Rainwater, 45, of Offutt Air Force Base at Omaha, was sentenced by the Lancaster District Court to 30 days in the county jail and fined $100 on a charge of assault and battery.

Rainwater had pleaded guilty to the misdemeanor after it was reduced from an original felony charge of assault with intent to murder.

In his plea, he admitted threatening "in a menacing manner" with a pistol his former wife, Mary, in a Lincoln apartment on Aug. 9.

Hebron Farm Couple Die In U.S. 6 Crash

State's '53 Road Death Toll At 253

SUTHERLAND, Neb. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Lutes, 66 and 64 respectively, of Hebron, Neb., were killed Wednesday in the collision of their car and an empty gasoline transport truck, Lincoln County coroner J. G. McIntosh said.

The county coroner said the east-bound car was in collision with a transport truck driven by Alva Webb, 39, of Central City just east of Sutherland on U.S. Highway 30. Both occupants of the car were thrown clear. There was no fire.

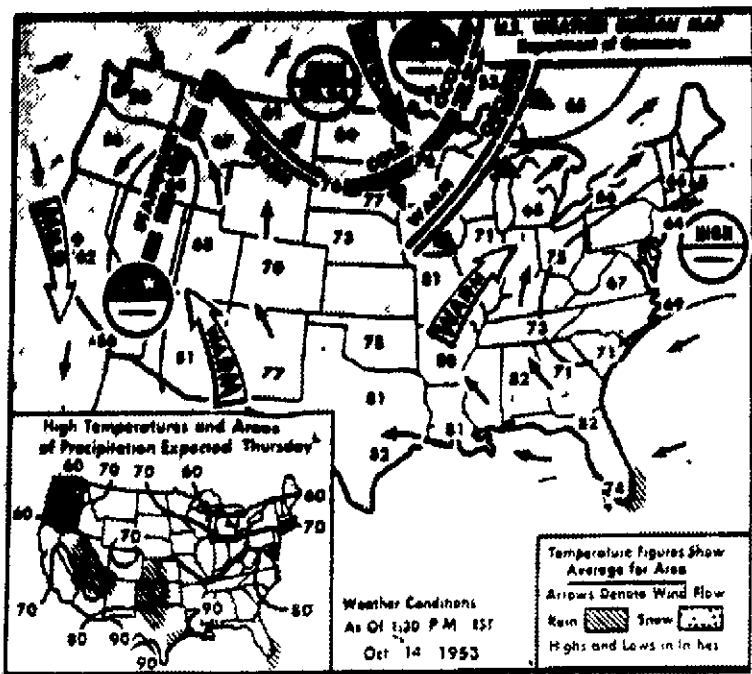

Suicided Off Highway
McIntosh said Webb, who was not injured, told him that the Lutes car pulled out into his lane in an attempt to pass a line of vehicles and although he swerved off the right side of the highway he was unable to avoid the collision.

The late model car climbed up the front of the truck and when it came to a halt the truck bumper was protruding from the roof of the car.

Mr. and Mrs. Lutes, residents of the Hebron area for a number of years, living on a farm east of Hebron.

The deaths bring Nebraska's 1953 highway death toll to 253, compared with 270 at this time last year.

The couple are survived by three sons, William D. of Lincoln, Robert in the U. S. Navy stationed in Hawaii, and James of Fort Riley, Kan.; a daughter, Mrs. Lee West of Gresham; and seven grandchildren.

Fair Weather The Rule

Fair weather will again be the rule over the nation Thursday. Some rain is expected in the Pacific northwest. A few widely scattered showers are likely over portions of the southern plains, southwestern plateau region and along the lower coast of Florida. Temperatures will continue to moderate over the New England and the middle Atlantic states. (AP Wirephoto Map Wednesday Night.)

Reclamation Head Attacks Budget Bureau

RENO, Nev. (AP)—Two top officials of the National Reclamation Association Wednesday called on the Eisenhower administration to revoke a budget bureau circular of the Truman administration which they said threatens the future of reclamation in the west.

President C. Petrus Peterson of Lincoln, Neb., and William E. Welsh, secretary-manager of the association in Washington, both assailed circular A-47, issued last Dec. 31. It directs that no federal project on which repayment is to be required may be considered unless it will pay out in 50 years.

Peterson, in the annual presidential message to the opening session of the 22nd annual meeting, said one of the more important roadblocks in the path of development in the west is "the present functioning of the bureau of the budget."

"It has grown into an independent, arrogant agency which undertakes to veto in advance proposed legislation," Peterson said.

"It has undertaken to prescribe rules and regulations for other federal agencies whose authority stems from acts of Congress, such as the Department of Interior and asserts that they can discharge their duties only with the consent of the bureau."

"But the bureau of the budget is not that agency of the President," Peterson continued, "in the dying hours of the old administration a classical example of this supposed authority is evidence in budget circular A-47."

Services Friday For T. E. McKnight

AUBURN, Neb. (AP)—Funeral services for T. E. McKnight, 79, father of former State Sen. John McKnight, will be held at 2 p.m. Friday at the May & Timm Funeral Home here.

The elder McKnight retired in January of this year after more than a half century as an Auburn clothing merchant.

He was honored in September of 1949 by the Chamber of Commerce for 50 years as an Auburn business man. He moved here in 1899 from Brown County, Kan.

Survivors include his widow, son, John; two daughters, Elizabeth and Margaret, two sisters and a brother.

Cozad Concert Set For Maverick Band

COZAD, Neb. (AP)—The second annual concert of the Maverick band—composed of volunteer musicians from 35 Kansas and Nebraska towns—will be presented here Sunday, Oct. 25.

The 70-piece concert band is sponsored here by the Chamber of Commerce.

The day's activities will include a luncheon for visiting musicians. The band has grown from an original roster of 23 to 70—all working in other occupations. Some drive as much as 200 miles to participate.

L. G. Wolfe of Phillipsburg, Kan., is director.

Kids Parade Set For Bean Soup Day

ORD, Neb. (Lincoln Star Special)—The annual bean soup day to be held Wednesday, Oct. 28, will have an added feature this year. The committee in charge of a kids costume parade, which was originally planned for Halloween night, has been moved up so it can be held on bean soup day.

Stall Charged In Explosive Route Action

OMAHA (AP)—Mayor Glenn Cunningham and Police Commissioner Harold Caldwell Wednesday said they felt the trucking industry here is stalling for time in the matter of a substitute route for explosives trucks.

A majority of the council had heeded the plea of truckers Tuesday for more time to work out a substitute route but Caldwell said Wednesday there was a strong indication the truckers had nothing new to offer.

Caldwell said he had received a call from William Wolfe, vice president of Watson Brothers Transportation Co., Inc., saying "he thought the L street route was the best and he asked if Noyes (Fire Commissioner William D. Noyes) would meet with the truckers and suggest some substitute routes."

Ben E. Kaslow, attorney for the truckers said "technical men" had taken over the consideration of alternate route. He also said men from the defense transportation administration in Washington were expected here soon to meet with city officials.

Growth Of Western Oil Fields Celebrated

Ceremony Scheduled At Sidney

SIDNEY, Neb. (P)—The fourth annual oil progress week opened in Sidney with the showing of school exhibits of all types from the entire county.

There were about 80 entries in the exhibit section of oil week last year. Three trophies will be given for the best over-all school exhibits and four medals will be presented for individual work in the primary, intermediate, junior and senior divisions. The exhibits are models or paintings of equipment used in the oil industry.

Thursday's program will include a demonstration of well perforating and an evening program including a social hour, a dinner and program.

Ken Covell, vice president in charge of transportation for the Pure Oil Co., will be the principal speaker for the evening.

Rudy Munderloh, president of the Sidney Chamber of Commerce, will preside at the evening program and Jack H. Lowe, serving as master of ceremonies, will present the awards for school exhibits and introduce distinguished guests.

These guests will include E. C. Reed, assistant state geologist; Dr. George Condra, state geologist; Robert A. Goodall, Ogallala industrialist and oil man; and J. M. McIntire, president of the North Central Gas Co., Casper, Wyo.

There will be some entertainment numbers.

Drilling Continues
While the industry and the community celebrated the growth of the western Nebraska oil fields, the actual work of prospecting and drilling continued at its usual pace.

In the west Sidney gas field, the Ohio Oil Co. reported drilling of the tenth well, the No. 1 Westman, about a mile south of the No. 1 Shaw, which is now being completed for gas production. This well also is directly east of the No. 1 Hill-Fleiming, which Ohio completed some time ago for gas production.

Results from the Westman test will help Ohio evaluate gas reserves in the west Sidney field.

Kansas-Nebraska Gas Co., Hastings, has demonstrated its faith in the size of the field by starting construction of an enlarging gathering system which will come within six miles of the west Sidney field.

Kansas-Nebraska is known to be interested in purchasing the gas output. However, some feel Ohio would have to build another gas processing plant before the gas could be marketed. The company now has a plant north of Sidney, processing Huntsman field gas.

Drilling also is being rushed on the Charles Krueger farm six miles west of Sidney by the Chicago Corp. The rig to be used is at Chicago's Runge No. 1, west of Sidney, but no reports on the Runge's potential have been made.

Returning To Hollywood

Boni Buehler (right) and her sister, Jackie, pack Boni's bags preparatory to her return to Hollywood after a month's convalescence at her home in Scottsbluff, Neb. (AP Wirephoto Wednesday Night.)

Boni Buehler Seeks $500,000 Damages For Motorboat Crash

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (P)—A suit for $500,000 damages has been filed on behalf of Boni Buehler, the Scottsbluff, Neb., airline stewardess who lost an arm and a leg in a motorboat accident.

The action, filed in Superior Court here, named Conrad Hilton, international hotel magnate and owner of the boat, and some 40 others.

Miss Buehler, who had been convalescing at her home in Scottsbluff for a month, left Wednesday to return to Hollywood and resume what she hoped would be a "normal life."

Praised By Doctors

Doctors said her calm and cheerful outlook during her weeks in the hospital here, was highly instrumental in her recovery. Witnesses to the accident related that Miss Buehler fell off the speedboat and was caught by its propellers. The boat was towing Geary Steffan, insurance man, on water skis. Steffan pulled her out of the water.

Steffan was among those named in the suit. Others included Edi and Elise Juan, who reportedly had charge of the boat's maintenance; the Los Angeles Turf Club, owner of Lake

Bruggemann Elected Head Of Concordia

SEWARD, Neb. (Lincoln Star Special)—The Rev. Hubert G. Bruggemann, 42, pastor of Mt. Olive Lutheran Church at Milwaukee, Wis., since 1940, Wednesday was called to the presidency of Concordia Teachers College and High School by the board of electors.

He was one of 18 nominated by congregations of the Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod, earlier this year and was among several men recommended by a faculty committee chosen to evaluate candidates and make recommendations to the board of electors.

The Rev. Bruggemann, father of four children, has increased the congregation of his church at Milwaukee from 600 to 1,800 since 1940. He also established a six-room Lutheran elementary school.

A telegram was sent him informing him he is to receive the call.

Cast Four Votes

Four votes were cast. Dr. John W. Behnken, St. Louis, president of the Lutheran church, Missouri Synod, cast a vote to which he is entitled through his office.

S. J. Roth, representative of the board for higher education, which is responsible for operation of the 14 colleges of the Lutheran church in North America, balloted for that body.

The Rev. A. F. Wegener of Chappell, president of the southern Nebraska district of the Lutheran church, Missouri Synod, cast the third ballot, and the Concordia board of control collectively cast one vote.

Members of the faculty committee which made the recommendation are Walter Hellwege, chairman; Henry Werling, secretary; C. T. Brandhorst, Paul Nesper and Walter Hardt.

Byron Charlton, Retired Farmer At Roca, Is Dead

ROCA, Neb. (Lincoln Star Special)—Funeral services for Byron C. Charlton, 79-year-old retired Roca farmer, will be held at 2:30 p.m. Friday at the Roca Church. He was a lifetime resident of this vicinity.

Surviving are his wife, Essie; a son, Clay of Portland, Ore.; a grandson; and a brother, William of Roca.

The Rev. L. Blauvelt will be in charge of services. Burial will be in Lincoln Memorial Park.

Tractor Is Destroyed

STELLA, Neb. (Lincoln Star Special)—Fire destroyed a tractor owned by Vern Elliott, who farms near here, when a corn husk caught fire as it came in contact with the tractor's hot manifold.

Four Hurt In Farm Accidents Set For Forum

YORK, Neb. (P)—How do farm machinery accidents happen?

To give Nebraska farmers the low down on that question, four men who have been injured in tractor or cornpicker accidents will be interviewed Thursday at Nebraska's second annual mechanical corn picking contest.

The four are William Berg, Lincoln; Maurice Lovegrove, Fairmont; Philip Diederich, Geneva; and Carl Ges, Seward.

Lodgepole Farm Land Sells For $234 Per Acre

SIDNEY, Neb. (P)—A 39-acre tract of land on the Frank Vosika property near Lodgepole brought approximately $234 per acre at an auction sale. The land is irrigated and has some improvements but is principally meadow. Fred Quinn was the buyer.

McCarthy Says Scientist Admits Taking Secrets

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) said Wednesday a scientist pal of atom spy Julius Rosenberg admits taking 43 secret documents from Army Signal Corps files some years ago. Army agents later recovered them in a 1946 raid on the scientist's home, McCarthy said.

There was no evidence that the secrets ever got beyond the scientist, although McCarthy said there was a possibility.

However, the senator claimed a number of top secret radar documents—not necessarily the same ones the witness was talking about—eventually fell into Communist hands in East Germany.

McCarthy did not name the witness but called him a "top scientist" recently suspended at the Signal Corps laboratory at Ft. Monmouth, N. J. He also was said to be a self-described "close friend" of the recently executed Rosenberg. The atom spy once worked at Ft. Monmouth, nerve center of the Army's vital radar program of defense.

McCarthy said the witness told of taking the secret documents home with him because "it was common practice."

"Studying Up"
"Another reason he gave for removing them was that he was studying up on his work," the senator added.

The witness was quoted as saying he signed some of the papers out himself, while some were released to him by other unidentified parties.

McCarthy said the scientist denied passing any of the documents to other persons, but conceded they were accessible to his roommate of the time—an unidentified man eventually fired from the Signal Corps for alleged Communist activity.

"It was not at all impressed with the frankness of the witness," remarked McCarthy as he briefed newsmen on what went on behind closed doors at a secret session of his Senate Investigations Subcommittee.

McCarthy called a night session of the subcommittee to question Maj. Gen. Kirke Lawton, commander of Ft. Monmouth.

The Wisconsin senator announced Tuesday that a "sizeable number" of top secret documents have been missing from Signal Corps files for at least two years. In enemy hands, he added, they "could be extremely dangerous to this country."

Wednesday, McCarthy said: "We have completely convincing testimony that some of these documents on radar and other matters did turn up in East Berlin, but as to the number I will not comment."

McCarthy claimed the documents "were used by the Communists."

1,500 Shriners To Gather In Lincoln For Annual Fall Sesostri Ceremonial

Approximately 1,500 Nebraska Shriners will gather in Lincoln Friday for the annual fall ceremonial of Sesostri Temple of the Shrine.

The ceremonial, at which 120 candidates will be initiated, will start with a noon luncheon at the Cornhusker Hotel. The Divan will honor past state potentates.

The big attraction will be the customary colorful parade, which, according to Sesostri Potentate Hobb Turner, will be two miles long and "the best ever."

Candidates will meet at 2 p.m. The parade down O Street will begin at 3:30 p.m. Walton B. Roberts is parade marshal.

The parade will include the candidates, Shrine Patrol, Oriental Band and Ritualistic Team. A top attraction will be Ray Ramsay, carried on a shoulder chair by four giant "slaves."

Dinner will be held at the Scottish Rite Temple under the direction of Chief Steward Walter P. Scott. At 7 p.m. the Ceremonial will be continued at the State Fair Grounds 4-H Building, where the Ritualistic Pageant will be held at 7:30 p.m.

Lou Chackes, an industrial banker from St. Louis, Mo., where he is a post potentate, will be evening master of ceremonies.

The Shriners will attend the Nebraska-Miami football game Saturday afternoon.

18 Disabled State Vets Get Federal Grants For Homes

Eighteen disabled veterans in Nebraska have received federal grants for "wheelchair" homes totalling $170,319, the Veterans Administration has announced. Five more Nebraska cases are now being processed.

More than $29,000,000 has been granted to 3,123 veterans who as a result of service-connected disability cannot get about without the aid of wheelchairs, braces, crutches or canes.

Grants may be used to buy lots and build homes, remodel homes, or applied against mortgages on present homes. Special features such as ramps, doorways wide enough to accommodate wheelchairs and exercise rooms are incorporated into the homes.

Dulles Leaves For London Big 3 Meeting

Korean Talks To Be Studied

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles, departing for London expressed hope Wednesday night that imminent Big Three talks will "make some progress" toward easing world tensions through international co-operation.

The secretary took off by plane at 8:37 p.m. EST.

Dulles set out on his flying visit prepared to discuss with British Foreign Secretary Eden and French Foreign Minister Bidault the possibility of bringing one or more neutral nations into the projected Korean peace conference at a later stage as a possible way of breaking the stalemate holding up the conference.

The idea is that some nation such as India might serve in the role of "honest broker" between the two belligerent sides—the United Nations and the Communists.

It was also reported on excellent authority that Dulles was going with an open mind about the proposal of Yugoslav Marshal Tito for a United States-British-Italian-Yugoslav meeting on the Trieste crisis. Like the Korean problem, the whole Trieste situation is slated for study at London.

Best Wishes
Dulles released a statement disclosing that he is carrying "best wishes" from President Eisenhower to Prime Minister Churchill and expressing pleasure at the prospect of finding Eden again at work after his serious illness of the spring and summer.

Dulles said the "undeviating objective" of the talks to be held Friday and Saturday will be "to seek out, with all of our Allies, the basis for a lasting peace." He did not detail the subjects to be discussed, but exchanges among Washington, Paris and London in the last few days made clear that no matter of international importance would be excluded and that particularly European defenses and proposals for a Big Four meeting on Germany would be taken up by the Big Three. So far Russia has stalled their efforts to have Big Four talks on Germany and Austria.

Dulles said in his statement: "We cannot, of course, expect in a single meeting at London to devise solutions for all existing problems. We can hope to make some progress in finding the way whereby we and others can move in unison toward the easing of existing tensions."

"The path toward peace is a

Second Baptist Pastor Installed

Rev. J. S. Schroder (left), retired Omaha pastor, looks on as Dr. Arthur M. Clarke (right), executive secretary of the Nebraska Baptist Convention, congratulates newly installed pastor of Second Baptist Church, Rev. Clifford Perron. (Star Staff Photo.)

Rev. Clifford F. Perron Is Formally Installed Pastor Of Second Baptist

Members of the Second Baptist Church at 28th and S Street witnessed the formal installation of their new pastor, Rev. Clifford F. Perron, in ceremonies that brought 15 ministers of all denominations together Wednesday night.

Representatives of the Lincoln Council of Churches, the Ministerial Fellowship, the Lincoln Baptist Union and the Capital Baptist Association spoke briefly at the installation.

Dr. Arthur M. Clarke, executive secretary of the Nebraska Baptist state convention told the membership during the installation sermon to "give the pastor wholehearted support."

Cautions Congregation
Dr. Clarke cautioned the congregation not to be like some churches that "eulogize a pastor the first year, crucify him the second year, and crucify him the third year."

"A pastor is like a goldfish," he said. "His words are magnified and his actions observed."

Rev. Perron speaking for the first time to the members as their official pastor, said "I personally consider this a very great privilege and responsibility. I thank you, the congregation, for the opportunity of serving you."

broad path, open to all who wish to join in efforts to protect mankind from the dark consequences of another war."

Regarding the Trieste issue, it was authoritatively reported that Dulles has not shut the door toward consideration of Marshall Tito's proposal for a four-power conference.

Football, Barbecue To Highlight NWU Homecoming Slate

Barbecued chicken—fresh from the chukwagon—and the traditional football game between Wesleyan and Doane College will highlight Nebraska Wesleyan University's homecoming this weekend.

Homecoming begins Friday at 11:30 a.m. with the all-school rally followed by the chukwagon dinner at 5:30 p.m. and the game at 8 p.m.

Half-time entertainment will include a drill by the Doane band; a show titled "Then and Now" by the 65-piece Plainsman marching band, under the direction of Prof. Robert Marshall; announcement of the winners of the organized houses' decorating contest; and the identity of the "W" Club sweetheart.

The Wesleyan homecoming ends with the annual homecoming dance Saturday night at the Northeast High School auditorium.

State Temperance League Names 5 Vice Presidents

The Temperance League of Nebraska elected five vice presidents, secretary and treasurer and heard a report from the league's attorney, Albert S. Johnston of Lincoln at the board of trustees meeting here.

The 1954 president will be elected at the January meeting.

New officers elected include: Dr. Nick Barnard, Lincoln, vice president in charge of finance;

Dr. Ernest E. Smith, pastor of First Baptist Church in Omaha, vice president in charge of personnel;

George A. Spidel, Lincoln, vice president in charge of nominations;

Dr. Gale Moon, pastor of First Methodist Church in Kearney, vice president in charge of education;

Dr. C. Van White, pastor of First Presbyterian Church in Lincoln, vice president in charge of legislative action;

Mrs. John McDonald, Lincoln, secretary; E. L. Tyner, Lincoln, treasurer.

The Rev. Joseph A. Houston, Kearney, is the retiring president.

In his report to the league, Johnston recommended legislation the league might be interested in during the next session of the Legislature.

700 Expected At Convention Of High School Press Group

High school journalists and their faculty advisors will converge on the University of Nebraska campus Nov. 6 and 7 for the 22nd annual convention of the Nebraska High School Press Association.

Burgi Named To NU Speech Staff

Ernest J. Burgi, 29, University of Nebraska extension division speech correction instructor, has joined the staff of the University department of speech and dramatic arts.

His appointment as speech correction instructor was announced by Dr. Leroy T. Lass, department chairman.

The appointment was made possible by a $6,500 gift presented to the University by the Lancaster County committee of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults. The gift also provides for hiring a part-time instructor.

Working in the speech and hearing laboratory, Burgi will assist in developing better methods for testing hearing and fitting hearing aids for pre-school children.

Burgi has been on the extension division staff since 1951. He received his master's degree from University of Denver in 1951 and his bachelor's degree from Arizona State College in 1950. He is a native of Utah.

Gov. Robert Crosby heads the list of speakers. Most of the program, however, will be devoted to clinics, workshops, and panel discussions led by the students themselves.

Awards Planned

Among the awards will be five gold keys awarded to outstanding first year students in the university's school of journalism presented by The Lincoln Star and Lincoln Journal; the yearbook trophy presented to an outstanding high school annual by the Grand Island Independent; two plaques to printed newspapers and one plaque to a mimeographed paper among high school student publications presented by the Omaha World-Herald; and a certificate for outstanding advertising work in student publications presented by the university chapter of Gamma Alpha Chi, women's advertising group.

Certificates of awards will be given to winners in 14 competitive contests conducted during the convention.

Mrs. Edith Douthitt, University of Nebraska School of Agriculture at Curtis, is president of the NHPA. Other officers include the following:

Barclay Wade of Fremont High School, vice-president.
Robert Munger, of Lincoln High School, treasurer.
Vas Irene Auble of Scottsbluff High School, secretary.
James Morrison, assistant professor of journalism, convention director.

Inspectors Say Aggressor Act Won't Go Unpunished

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate Armed Services Subcommittee said Wednesday U.S. air power and collective security arrangements have advanced to a point that "no aggressor nation can start something and go unpunished."

The report was signed by Sens. Case (R-SD), Duff (R-Fa) and Stennis (D-Miss), who just returned from an inspection tour of U.S. overseas air bases. The three senators reported person-

Big Airliner Falters And 44 Are Dead

... Near Frankfurt

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—A twin-engine Belgian airliner crashed Wednesday shortly after taking off from a Rhein-Main Airport near here, killing all 44 persons aboard, including several Americans.

Among the victims were a former Austrian diplomat, Sir George Frankenstein, 74, and his wife, Lady Frankenstein. Frankenstein, Austria's last minister to London before World War II, was secretary of the old Austro-Hungarian legation in Washington before World War I. He became a British subject in 1938 and was knighted.

Cause of the disaster remained a mystery. One eyewitness said the American-built Convair faltered shortly after taking off, tilted on one wing, sheared off the tops of trees, and plunged to the ground with a roar. After crashing it burst into flames.

Americans Aboard

Sabena Airlines, owners of the plane, listed 40 passengers and four crewmen as killed. The list included these identified as Americans:

William Janovsky, Mrs. Frieda Janovsky and a baby, all of Readsboro, Vt. They boarded the plane at Salzburg, Austria, bound for New York.

Albert M. Kessel, 44; Mrs. Gertrude Kessel, 42 and Miss Ruth G. Kessel, 22, all of Bay Shore, N.Y.

Irving Rosenberg, 50; Jacob Weil and Herbert J. Weil, an American soldier—home towns not immediately listed.

(In New York, Sabena Airlines representatives said two more passengers, a woman and a child, had been identified as Americans: Mrs. Barbara Brassloff and child, Garry, 2, of Queens, New York City.

The plane originally took off from Salzburg for London. It crashed in a densely wooded section four miles south of Frankfurt.

It was the second worst air crash in German civil aviation history. A Dutch airliner crashed near the same spot March 22, 1952, killing 45.

ally to President Eisenhower a few hours before making public their findings, but gave no details of their talk with the President.

Their tour carried them to U.S. airbases in England, Scotland, France, French Morocco, Portugal, Spain, Germany, Libya, Turkey, Greece, Italy and Australia.

Bristling with confidence in U.S. power, the senators said in their 10-page printed report "it is time to quit wringing our hands and talking tones of despair."

Much remains to be done, they said, but "we no longer need to build every base that anyone could propose in every possible position under the sun."

Other congressional groups have previously reported mistakes, waste and spending in the hurry-up base construction program, but the three senators said "the wonder is that more mistakes have not been made" in view of the size of the projects and the difficulties encountered.

Some Economies

As to spending, the senators called for some specific economies, but said the men on the job already have made savings measurable in millions of dollars.

The senators said they found that "a position of formidable strength is being attained." Through establishments of the bases "within minutes from our strategic targets."

"The (free world) progress of restoring a balance in world power has been much greater than is generally recognized," the senators said, and added: "We have the bases and we

Pi Phi Officer, Guest

Mrs. Clark Y. Gunderson of Vermilion, S. D., province vice president of Pi Beta Phi, arrived in Lincoln by plane Wednesday afternoon for an official visit with the members of the Lincoln Alumnae Club of the sorority.

Wednesday evening, Mrs. Gunderson was honored at a dessert supper for which Mrs. Richard Kimball was hostess at her home. In charge of arrangements was Mrs. William Cartmell who was assisted by Mrs. George Fagerberg, Mrs. C. D. Hildebrand, Mrs. Richard Joy, Mrs. F. A. Pierson Jr., and Mrs. James Terry.

Sharon Club Has Exhibit

Mrs. R. L. Stevens was hostess to the members of the Sharon Extension Club for the October meeting of the group when a lesson on "Personalize Your Christmas Cards," was given by Mrs. Elmer Christensen.

An exhibit of foreign Christmas cards received by the members was a feature of the afternoon. The group voted to meet Nov. 5 for T.B. chest X-rays. Assisting Mrs. Stevens as hostess was Miss Hazel Cooley.

YW Club Activities

The regular dinner-meetings of the YWCA Live Yers Club will be held Wednesday evening in the YW Club room when the hostesses will be Maxine Miller, chairman, Ann Quastrom, Gladys Ofe, and Pauline Demaree. Reservations for the meeting, which is open to any employed girl between the ages of 18 and 35, must be made at the YW by 9 o'clock Wednesday morning.

At the recent open house program of the club, Miss Kathryn Lann, who will leave soon for Formosa to begin her duties as executive director of the national YWCA, was a featured speaker. Short talks on the club activities were given by Miss Donna Prescott, Miss Connie Lawless, Miss Marguerite Taylor and Miss Demaree.

Open house guests included Miss Donna Rippe, Miss Jeanne Salmon, Miss Lillie Callaway, Miss Marilyn Kline, Miss Bonita Hawkinson, Miss Alice Nisley, Miss Lois Johnson, Miss Nancy Allen, Miss Bernice Jacobson, Miss Margie Harrison, Miss Ardath Abraham, Miss Viola Williams and Miss Prescott.

YM-YW Dances Are Scheduled

Both single men and women and young married couples are invited to attend the YWCA and YMCA dances which will begin Saturday evening, Oct. 17th. Music for the dancing, which starts at 9 o'clock in the Green Room of the YMCA, is to be furnished by the Jimmy Frost Trio.

Took A Look Around Town

TOOK A LOOK AROUND the town this morning to see what we could see—More to the point is the fact that we listened while we looked—and we came up with some news—No romances this morning; although we have a bride-elect to mention—no words of hectic activity for the game week end—just news. There are to be some guests in town—Some will linger on for the game—and others will be on their way before game time—The party market is a little slow this year, doubtless due to the fact that we've pretty well taken care of them during the past few days—But on with the news at hand—

AMONG THE guests in Lincoln this week end will be Dr. and Mrs. Earl Farnsworth of Santa Barbara, Calif., formerly of Grand Island who, during their brief stay in Lincoln, will be the house guests of Mrs. Frank Boehmer and Mrs. I. G. Chapin.

But after the game Dr. and Mrs. Farnsworth will go to Grand Island where they will spend several days visiting old friends before leaving for the west coast.

AND EXPECTED sometime within the next few days are Mr. and Mrs. Lewis J. Leer of Minneapolis who will spend a day or two as the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hedke.

The Leers will come to Lincoln from Colorado where they have been visiting their daughter who is a student at the University of Colorado at Boulder.

APPROPOS of guests—learned that Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Yoke of St. Petersburg, Fla., who spent the past few days visiting Mr. Yoke's brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. J. E. M. Thomson, left Wednesday morning to return to St. Petersburg.

Mr. and Mrs. York arrived in Lincoln last week end, but almost immediately upon their arrival they accompanied their host and hostess to the Thomson ranch in the western part of the state.

OUR BRIDE-ELECT that we mention is from down campus way—Miss Jane Madden, KKG at Nebraska—Miss Madden, whose marriage to LeRoy A. Crosby of Omaha will be solemnized at the Dundee Presbyterian Church in Omaha on Saturday afternoon, Dec. 19, is this morning announcing the bridal attendants.

Miss Madden has chosen her sister-in-law, Mrs. John W. Madden Jr., as her matron of honor, and the maid of honor is to be Miss Suzanne Graham. The trio of bridesmaids will be Miss Daphne Young, Miss Diane Young, both of Omaha, and Miss Suzanne Adams of Balboa Island, Calif. The bride-elect's small sister, Susan Madden, will be the flower girl.

Robert Johnson of Council Bluffs will serve Mr. Crosby as best man, and seating the guests will be John W. Madden Jr., Robert Crosby, William Winstrom, Harris Poley

Jr., all of Omaha, and Lee Keller of Council Bluffs, Ia.

A BRIDGE club luncheon may not come under the heading of "party" but they usually are pretty festive—and on Wednesday Mrs. Robert Wekesser was luncheon hostess at her home when she entertained the members of her bridge eight-some.

HEAR THAT Mr. and Mrs. Zane C. Fairchild's young son, who arrived at Lincoln General Hospital on Tuesday, Oct. 13, has been named John David—The young man's paternal grandparents are Prof. and Mrs. L. H. (Zane) Fairchild.

SOMEONE told us that the Agees—Mr. and Mrs. Richard—had returned from a long week-end spent in Chicago.

Sigma Kappa New Officers

At the Tuesday evening meeting of the Sigma Kappa Alumnae Club, held at the home of Mrs. Sam D. Smith, Mrs. Chris E. Kuyatt was elected president to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mrs. John Hays, who was Miss Jean Zehrung before her recent marriage, and who will make her home in Omaha.

Other officers of the club are Mrs. Kenneth B. Smith, vice president; Mrs. Richard E. Petty, treasurer; and Mrs. A. J. Whitmer, secretary.

The members discussed plans for entertaining the pledge class at a winter roast to be held Sunday, Oct. 18, at the home of Miss Marlene Dumke. In charge of arrangements will be Mrs. Kenneth B. Smith.

To Be Guest Speaker

Mrs. Susan Pettiss of New York City, assistant executive secretary of the American Association of Social Workers, will arrive this week end to be the guest speaker at a dinner meeting of the Lincoln chapter of the American Association of Social Workers on Monday evening at Cotner Terrace.

Mrs. Pettiss, a graduate of the New York School of Social Work, formerly was associated with the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation agency, and was assigned to the displaced persons program in the United States Zone of Germany where she remained from 1945 to 1948. Mrs. Pettiss joined the National staff of the AASW in 1952.

Miss Florence Brugger, chief social worker at Veterans' hospital, is chairman of the Lincoln chapter and will preside at the meeting.

Square Dance Plans Made

Plans for the annual autumn dance given by the Lincoln Square Dance Council for all its club members will be discussed at the group's regular meeting on Thursday evening in the Rogers Room at the YWCA.

A newly organized club, which meets at Bethany hall and whose name is the "Swing 'Em in Gingham" club, has been admitted to membership, and its president is Dale Knapp. With this recent addition, the clubs represented in the council total 23.

Two member clubs are bringing out of town square dance callers to Lincoln this month for open dances. "Bustles and Bows" will have Ruckey Holden, from Texas, at their regular dance at Antelope Pavilion on Oct. 23, and the Square Dance Callers Association will sponsor a Californian, Doc Allenbaugh, at the pavilion on Oct. 29.

Pageant Highlights Chest-Red Cross Kick-Off Dinner

Representatives Of Tabitha Home (Left) And Urban League Tell Of Programs

A colorful pageant enacted by representatives of the 29 Community Chest agencies and the Red Cross highlighted the United Campaign fund drive kick-off dinner Wednesday night.

"It was about as spirited a kick-off dinner as I have seen," Willard E. Townsend, general chairman, said following the banquet attended by approximately 430 persons.

The pageant, a new feature, replaced the usual speeches outlining the services of the agencies. Under the direction of George Randol, approximately 70 persons dressed in uniforms representing their organizations, demonstrated the theme that "the individual is responsible for services rendered to the community."

The 30-minute show opened with a massing of flags of the agencies. Each organization then presented highlights of its work during the year followed by a scene tracing the path of the Red Cross blood donor program.

The Salvation Army led the recessional playing "Onward, Christian Soldiers," as the agencies retired their flags.

Speaking briefly of the importance of reaching the United Campaign goal of $482,266 were Walter Henrior, Community Chest president; Howard Agee, Red Cross chairman; Mayor Clark Jeary and Townsend.

The Northeast High School string ensemble directed by Morris Collier provided dinner music. Janice Osborn, University YWCA president, assisted in directing the pageant.

The United Campaign drive, the largest in the history of Lincoln, opens Thursday morning. The first report luncheon will be held Monday at the Chamber of Commerce.

Postal Inspector Is Government's Concluding Witness In Ballenger Trial

Postal Inspector Jack A. Bradley of the Lincoln office was the concluding witness Wednesday in the government's case against Dean W. Ballenger, Lincoln businessman, charged with use of the mails with intent to defraud.

Bradley, on the stand in Federal Court, said he had been requested to inspect the proceedings Ballenger used in hiring advertising salesmen, and Bradley said he had sat in when Ballenger was questioning one of the job seekers. Bradley said he had concluded that Ballenger was the one sending out the letters, basis of the government's complaint, because Ballenger said he was the one handling affairs of the Lincoln Advertising Company, which he owns.

Contradicts Testimony

Bradley said that in his witnessing of the interview, Ballenger told them their sales area was not necessarily be exclusive, and that some areas overlapped. This contradicted the testimony of some witnesses, who had claimed they were given exclusive sales areas, but had found several of these areas already had been sold.

Alvin M. Planer of Battle Creek, a government witness, said he found several areas where other salesmen already had sold the advertising—on farm manuals. He noted, however, on cross-examination that had it been possible to sell several pages of advertising, a salesman could earn several hundred dollars.

Defense for Ballenger, headed by Max Towle, has contended that the men who signed the contracts knew what they were doing.

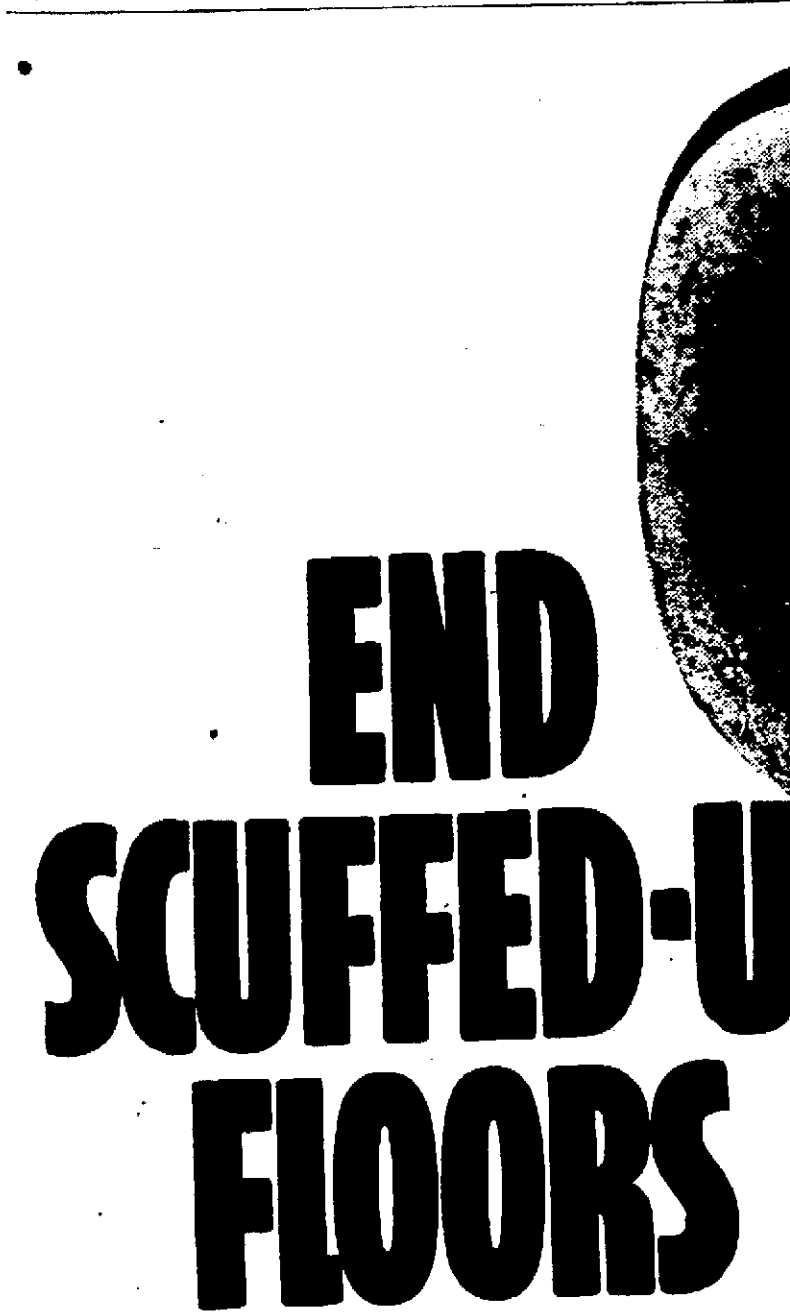

Good Faith

Testimony by government witnesses has pointed out that Ballenger had them pay $360 as a sign of good faith, which they would receive back when they had sold their ads. Ballenger, they said, contended that a man with a car could earn at least $85 a week by the sales work. All who entered into the con-

Restaurant Convention Starts Sunday

Approximately 500 persons are expected during the three-day Nebraska State Restaurant Association convention at the Cornhusker Hotel, Joe Carter, co-chairman of the event, announced Wednesday night.

The first session will start Sunday afternoon at 1 p.m. Jerry Eulberg of Wayne, president of the association, will preside. The principal speaker will be Frank Mueller, a Lincolnite now with the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

Dance Sunday

Sunday night will see a dance and get-together.

"What's New In Good Food" will be the title of Monday morning's panel. Panel members are: Joe Carter, chairman, Lincoln; Dr. W. J. Loeffel, University of Nebraska; Clara Gebhard Snyder, national food consultant; Pat McMann, Omaha; Richard Lutz, Lincoln; Chef Rebensdorf, Lincoln.

Monday afternoon will be highlighted by two nationally-known speakers: William O. Wheeler, president of the National Restaurant Association; and Paul P. Logan, research director for the national group.

Sabra Kennedy of St. Louis, Mo., will demonstrate "Labor Saving Equipment."

Principal speaker at the Monday night banquet will be Clarence Walker of Atlanta, Ga.

U.S. Pays In 15 Million More For Aid To Korea

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States announced Wednesday it has paid in 15 million dollars to the U.N. Korea Rehabilitation Administration (UNKRA) out of its 1954 aid budget.

The check brings the U.S. total paid into the organization to rebuild Korea to 55 million dollars against its pledge in 1950 of 102 million dollars.

A U.S. delegation spokesman said the U.S. contribution was the only money in the fund now, although other countries have pledged to the administration's 130 million dollar budget for this year.

30 Welfare Departments To Be Represented At NU Institute

Staff members of 30 county public welfare departments in the state are scheduled to attend the 10th annual Nebraska Social Work Institute Thursday and Friday at the University of Nebraska.

Dr. Otto G. Hoiberg, supervisor of community services for the extension division, and Dr. Richard Garlinghouse, chairman of the Nebraska Medical Association Governmental Advisory Committee, will speak during the opening session Thursday.

23,000 Men To Be Drafted In December ... 200 Nebraskans

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department asked for the drafting of 23,000 men in December for the Army.

This was the sixth consecutive month the Defense Department had issued a call for that number of men. The new draft call will bring the total drafted since the start of the Korean War to 7,584,430.

Of the total, 1,503,000 have been drafted for the Army and 81,430 for the Marine Corps. There have been no draftees for the Navy or Air Force.

Gen. Guy N. Henninger, Nebraska's adjutant general, said the state's draft call for December would probably be about 200 men.

The draft call in Nebraska for September was 255; 200 in October; and 182 in November.

National VFW Post Goes To Grossman

Nathan Grossman of Lincoln, hospital co-ordinator for three Nebraska veterans hospitals, has been appointed to the national hospital committee of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

His appointment to the committee which represents all veterans hospitals in the United States was announced by Wayne E. Richards, VFW commander-in-chief, Kansas City, Mo.

Grossman, past department commander and past national committee member, was recently appointed national aide-de-camp to assist Richards. He recently received a distinguished service badge. Grossman has long been active in veterans welfare activities. He is a member of Harris-Fraley Post 131 of Lincoln.

'Drought Won't Change Farm Loan Status'

"The overall state picture on farm loans will not be greatly affected by the recent drought," W. F. Wenke, president of the Nebraska Bankers' Association, said in an interview during the Wednesday evening session of the Agricultural Credit Conference at the Ag Campus.

Wenke said that the drought may "affect certain badly hit areas and cause a greater number of farmers to seek loans." He added, however, that state banks had plenty of money available for loans.

"Bankers," he said, "may be a little more cautious because of the uncertainty of the future economically, but the drought is only a small part of that uncertainty."

Plenty Of Money

This uncertainty, he said, is not serious enough to create a

"tight money" situation. He emphasized that there is plenty of money available for loans throughout the country.

The conference Wenke and about 70 other bankers from throughout the state were attending will continue until Friday evening.

The principal speaker Wednesday evening was Charles H. Marshall of Elmwood, president of the Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation. Marshall outlined eight points which he said were necessary for a successful agricultural system:

1. General economic prosperity.
2. Expanding world trade.
3. Adequate farm credit.
4. Modern marketing and distribution.
5. Wide-spread soil conservation.

6. Research and education.

7. Development of the most economically sound farms.

8. Price supports at a protection level—supports that will not encourage over-production but will give the farmer insurance from sudden bankruptcy.

Opening Address

In the opening address of the afternoon session, Richard G. Ford, extension economist with the Agricultural Economics Department of the University of Nebraska, discussed "The Agricultural Finance Situation."

He revealed that a survey of Nebraska bankers shows that 52 per cent think that a larger number of farmers will be wanting credit for productive purposes in the coming year and 35 per cent believe the number seeking loans will be about the same.

At the same time, he said, 52

again we have expanded our production facilities nearly 40% — to produce more fine beer for more fine people than ever before

Poppin' our buttons and bustin' our britches — but our hat still fits. Yes — even after 77 years of progress, we are still feeling the pangs of growing pains. As a result, we are being measured for a suit that will fit our needs.

Expansion programs such as this don't just happen.

For many years we have associated our product with the slogan: "YEAR AFTER YEAR THE SAME FINE BEER." It is more than just a slogan. It has been an ideal that has inspired every man in the Storz organization down through the years.

Today, Storz' reputation for making a fine beer has reached a national reputation second to none. This reputation for making such a fine beer is paralleled to Tiffany's reputation for making fine jewelry. Such reputations do not come easily!

For 19 consecutive years, Storz has led the sales of any other beer in the state of Nebraska. Each year the percentage of leadership has increased. To date, in 1953 — official state tax figures show that STORZ AGAIN LEADS BY A MARGIN FAR WIDER THAN EVER!

This has placed a demand for Storz Beer greater than our plant capacity. We could have supplied this demand by taking short-cuts in production that would have meant short-cuts in quality. This however, would have violated a founding principle, to produce at all times the finest beer possible!

Contracts have been let for new equipment and additions to our plant which will increase our production facilities nearly 40%. We are proud of this expansion program and what it means to this region. As a pioneer institution of Omaha, of the state of Nebraska, and of this whole midwestern area, Storz Brewing Company pledges its continued support to cooperate in the undertaking of civic projects and to help in every way possible build for a greater midwestern community.

Dressen Refused Three-Year Pact; Quits Brooks

1-Year Offer At Higher Salary Is Turned Down

By JOE REICHLER
BROOKLYN (AP)—Manager Charlie Dressen, who directed the Brooklyn Dodgers to two successive pennants only to lose in the World Series, quit in a huff Wednesday when his demand for a three-year contract was rejected.

Walter O'Malley, president of the National League champions, told a startled press audience that Dressen had been offered a one-year contract "at a substantial increase in salary," but had turned it down.

The 55-year-old Dressen acknowledged he had asked for a three-year pact but said he would be willing to settle for two. He said definitely he would not consider a one-year contract.

"That's right," Dressen told newsmen in the early part of the conference. "I won't reconsider. I won't manage the team next year."

Later, when asked the same question, he merely shrugged his shoulders and refused to give a direct answer. He said he planned to talk it over with his wife, who is in a hospital with a stomach disorder.

When asked whether he thought Dressen would reconsider, O'Malley said:

"I hope so, but I don't think so."

"Charlie can sign a contract with me right this minute if he agrees to a one-year term," O'Malley stated. "Unless he agrees to sign for one year, however, the Dodgers will have a new manager next year."

O'Malley went on to explain

Reese 'Surprised'

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Brooklyn Dodger Captain Pee Wee Reese said Wednesday the ousting of Manager Charlie Dressen as a surprise to me I never imagined anything like this would happen."

Reese, reached at his home here, has been mentioned several times as a possible major league manager once his playing days are over. The shortstop is 34.

Reese said:

"I will have to talk with the ball club before I can say anything. I imagine they will get in touch with me if they want me. I wouldn't want to make the first move."

"I always said before that I wouldn't consider a manager's job while I still have some good playing years left. But now this thing... I don't know... things look a little different now."

Rogers Hornsby, the oft-fired baseball manager, is a gruff old cuss. He has asbestos hide and he usually looks like he munches on spiked nails for breakfast.

Clyde Dean, Lincoln's contribution to the pitching ranks in the highest minors in the early '40s, has felt the Hornsby grouch.

Clyde was pitching for Rogers in the Texas League in 1940 when he (Dean) developed a sinus infection. After being out of the lineup for a week or so, the Lincoln righthander was well enough to again appear at the ball park.

Hornsby spotted him immediately. "Ask if he was okay? Not Sir Rogers."

"Get out there and throw batting practice!" barked the surly skipper. "You gotta earn your money."

To see that Clyde got a good start, Hornsby himself stepped up to the plate. The greatest righthanded batter of this or any time, Rogers still could rap any pitch within reach.

Dean's control, however, was wobbly and his first five pitches "dusted" Hornsby. This got the old boy's dander up.

When Clyde started finding the plate, Hornsby started screaming drives right through the pitcher's mound.

NU Scans Miami Plays; Novak Back Out Today

By NORRIS ANDERSON
Sports Editor, The Star

There was a lull before the storm in the University of Nebraska football drillyard Wednesday.

As the Huskers prepped for the Saturday business with Miami, the only news was a good hard scrimmage. No lineup changes, no predictions or no new injuries.

Once again, Coach Bill Glassford had the fresh squad imitate Miami's offensive attack and once again the revised Husker offensive lineup underwent a thorough head-knocking.

The only absentee was Fullback Ray Novak, who was having a reoccurring ruptured blood vessel in his leg checked. He will be back out Thursday as the Huskers taper off the pre-Miami workouts.

Glassford paused to compliment the improved pass defending of Halfback Bob Smith and Novak.

"They have been reacting very well," he said. "Either our pass defending is improved over last year or we aren't seeing as good a brand of passers."

The present fullback order includes Novak as No. 1, followed by Jim Yelley (No. 2) with Nick Adduci and John Edwards battling for the third spot. Nick, slowly getting into shape after a two-year Army stretch, may see his 1953 debut Saturday.

Another eventful happening was the emergence of End Andy Loehr off a liquid diet.

Since suffering a broken jaw five weeks ago, Andy has been able to consume nothing except baby food, milk shakes and Pabulum. Aided by this diet, plus a jaw protector, Andy has been the Huskers' most consistent all-around wingman.

Speculation arises what the gritty 164-pounder will accomplish with a solid mound under his belt.

Odds on the game continued to be fairly even, although Publicity Director George Gallet of

Players Put In Position Of Slavery, Court Told

By HERB AUTSCHULL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Attorneys contesting the restrictions of organized baseball told the Supreme Court Wednesday that baseball contracts put the players in a position "equal to slavery."

They asked that the game be declared a commercial enterprise within the meaning of the nation's anti-trust laws. This would clear the way for court tests of the player contracts.

Attorneys for baseball replied that baseball is a sport, not a commercial enterprise, and that therefore the courts have no authority to look into the contracts.

They said, too, that the contracts are an essential part of baseball and that the kind of contract now in force is necessary for the continued existence of the game.

It was on this note that two days of argument wound up before the nation's highest court. A decision, which could have a sweeping effect on the diamond game, is not expected until spring.

The nine justices seemed particularly interested in the detailed discussions of the televising of ball games, and for a time the argument settled down to a debate on the extent that baseball has moved into the field of advertising.

Attorneys Frederic A. Johnson and Seymour E. Martinson, representing a former minor league player and a minor league club-owner, took the position that radio and TV contracts give baseball owners 25 per cent of their income.

Baseball, Johnson said, has the means of controlling an advertising audience "which I imagine has never been held before since the world began."

Attorney Raymond T. Jackson, representing baseball, replied that radio and TV have no bearing whatsoever on the playing of baseball.

"Baseball clubs do not sell any advertising nor do they do any advertising for anybody," he said. "They merely sell the radio and television rights."

Johnson, arguing for former Brooklyn farmhand Walter Koslowski, said baseball's reserve clause kept his client from advancing in the minor leagues.

This clause, written into all baseball contracts, gives the clubowner complete authority over where a player controlled by his team may play, if at all. This applies to minor league affiliates as well as the big league club.

Noting that this clause gives a clubowner the right to sell the services of any player under contract to him at any time, Johnson said:

"An assignment of personal services is equal to slavery."

No Hard Feelings
Despite their contract differences, Manager Charlie Dressen (left) and Club President Walter O'Malley meet on friendly terms at the club's office in Brooklyn. Huskies' Milt Bohart Named Nation's Top Lineman Of Week

By TED MEIER
NEW YORK (AP)—Milt Bohart, a 22-year-old senior guard at the University of Washington, is this week's lineman of the week in the Associated Press poll.

Regarded by many as the best guard in the Pacific Coast Conference, Bohart earned the coveted honor for his sterling play against Southern California.

Playing the full 60 minutes, Bohart, an alert six-footer weighing 198 pounds, was a key figure in the Huskies' surprise 13-13 tie with the Trojans.

A native of Wenatchee, Wash., Bohart was all over the field. On defense he made more tackles than any other teammate. On offense he helped open big holes in the left side of the USC line.

Bohart joins another guard, Franklin Brooks of Georgia Tech, who was named lineman of the week last week.

Another 60-minute man, tackle Bob Bartholomew of Wake Forest, received high praise for his performance against North Carolina.

Said his coach, Tom Rogers: "He's a great boy. No doubt in my mind. For the season as a whole I'd rate him better than any tackle I've seen."

Duke's Bobby Burrows, a guard, distinguished himself against Purdue. On 11 occasions he stopped the Purdue running attack when the big team threatened the Duke goal line.

Crawford Mims, Mississippi guard, and Chuck Doud, UCLA tackle, were two others receiving praise. Their defensive work was particularly outstanding.

Gus Cifelli, tackle for the Detroit Lions, graduated magna cum laude from Notre Dame.

Defense Is Still Sign Of Top Team

NEW YORK 14—The switch to the one-plate system in college football this season hasn't altered the fact that strong defense still is the key to winning football.

This point is stressed by figures released Wednesday by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau which disclose that eight of the top ten teams in this week's major college total defense standings are undefeated.

One of the beaten teams, Southern Methodist, is the defensive leader with 133 yards allowed per game. The Mustangs bowed to Georgia Tech 6-4 for its lone setback and allowed only 33 yards in 32 plays. The other team to taste defeat is ninth-place Kansas, which has lost two out of four games.

The remaining eight schools are undefeated. In order they are second-ranked Yale, Georgia Tech, Navy, UCLA, Syracuse, Auburn, Mississippi State and LSU. However, all but Yale and UCLA have been tied.

As a group the top ten has won 24, lost three and tied seven. In contrast, only five of the ten leading offensive teams still are undefeated.

The same proportion holds true in the rushing defense list. Only Southern Methodist, in second place, and fifth-place Iowa have been beaten. Syracuse, is unscathed as are Yale, Navy, Holy Cross, Princeton, LSU, Maryland and Georgia Tech.

In the overall defense listings Southern Methodist, after giving up 233 yards to Missouri last week, now is being pressed by Yale. The Elis have given up 136.4 yards per game, while third-place Georgia Tech has allowed 142.8 yards per game.

The leaders in the other defense departments seems to bear little relationship to victories, except in the matter of preventing scoring. UCLA has been the stingiest in this category, yielding only seven points in four games for an average of 1.8 per game.

Wake Forest tops the list in pass defense, having limited the opposition to a scant 25 yards per game through the air. The Deacons, however, have dropped three out of four. UCLA, Arizona and Washington lead in pass interceptions with 11 apiece.

Texas Christian has averaged 44.4 yards per kick in 14 tries, Kansas State has returned six punts for an average of 29.3 yards and Notre Dame has averaged 38.4 yards on five kick-off run-backs to set the pace in these departments.

NAIA Cage Playoffs In Final Planning

Lincoln Star Special
CRETE — Plans for the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics District 11 basketball playoffs in March are in the final stages as announced by District Chairman Aub Givens, Doane College athletic director.

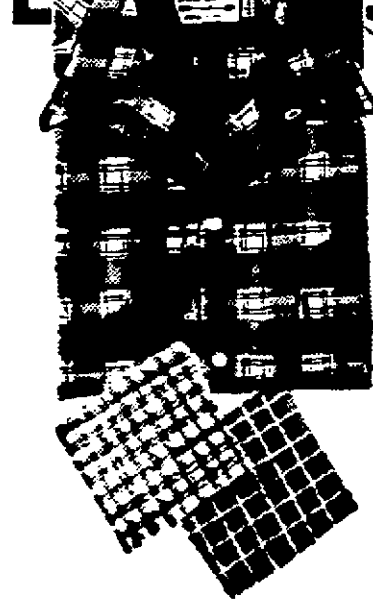

A District 11 committee with Paul Peterson, Dana College, and Chuck Obye, Wayne State, present prepared rules this week governing the selection of teams, location and exact date of the playoff.

Givens stated that two committee members were unable to attend and final adoption will be announced later.

The possibility of a District 11 track meet to determine entries for the NAIA meet in June in Abilene, Tex., was also discussed. Further discussion and decision on the meet will be made at the November meeting.

Merrill-Main Trophy Added Goal In Wesleyan-Doane Tilt

One of state collegedom's most intense football dramas will be re-enacted Friday when Nebraska Wesleyan and Doane College have at it for the 38th time in a 45-year-old gridiron classic. At stake will be not only the sweet fruits of a most desired football victory, but possession of the hotly contested Merrill-Main trophy, symbolic of gridiron supremacy for a one year span for the school in possession of the trophy.

Despite its comparative youth, the Merrill-Main trophy has already become a tradition between the schools, deeply symbolic of that goal for which it was established—good sportsmanship in all inter-school activities.

Nothing more in a material way than an ersatz gold football mounted on an equally questionable ivory base, the trophy was established in 1949 after antics of rival student bodies had reached questionable proportions.

Jim Denney, then publicity director at the Crete school, broached the idea of a symbol—something akin to the little brown jug—which might forever stand as an emblem dedicated to rivalry of the highest order, maintained in an atmosphere of good conduct at all times.

At first it was suggested that a "hatched" be buried at an undisclosed spot midway between the two schools by representative students who would then "smoke the pipe of peace" and pledge eternal secrecy as to the scene of the ceremony.

This plan was abandoned and representatives of the rival student senates secured funds to purchase the trophy.

The names Merrill-Main were suggested by the rival administration buildings—Merrill Hall at Doane and Old Main at Nebraska Wesleyan. Doane promptly managed a 20-14 football victory and secured possession of the trophy for the 1949 year.

As far as loyal Wesleyanites were concerned, the years 1950 and 1951 were drought years. Doane eked out a 21-12 victory in 1950 and ruined a Wesleyan homecoming with a 42-15 lacing the following fall. Last year Coach Roy Robertson's charges turned the tables with a 14-13 win and brought home the trophy for the first time.

Three Bears Sold

CHICAGO (P)—The Chicago Cubs announced Wednesday they have purchased the contracts of three players from their Des Moines, Iowa, affiliate in the Western League.

They are Pitchers Bob Hartig, Catcher Bob Murray and Outfielder Burdette Thurlby.

Private Cabins Will Be Banned In New Grove Lake Area

Interest in Grove Lake, new Game Commission lake now under construction, is considerable as is reflected in the large number of inquiries received regarding private cabin sites and concessions. Jack D. Strain, supervisor of land management for the Game Commission, said "The Commission develops such sites as Grove Lake for the specific purpose of promoting better fishing and hunting. In the case of Grove Lake, the area is limited and it is expected—in view of the nearness of the area to population centers—that the site will receive heavy public use.

"Due to the size and use, private development in the way of cabin sites will not be permitted on the State-owned area, nor will numerous concessions be authorized. This is to insure the greatest possible free public use. "This is a policy of long standing," he said, "as private developments are not permitted on any State-owned lake with the exception of certain authorized concessions. Private cabin sites are available on some of the large federally constructed and owned reservoirs managed by the Commission.

New Permalube 5W-20 is rated the world's best all-weather oil!

Amazingly allows starting like thinnest winter oils—yet protects and lasts like a summer oil!

EASTEST! The remarkable fluidity of this oil at low temperatures allows your car to get the fastest possible starts. Tough, yet it flows freely even at 30° below zero.

LOWEST! New PERMALUBE 5W-20 has the lowest consumption of any winter oil. Proved over and over by many tests. Economical in all cars, both old and new.

BEST! Because New PERMALUBE 5W-20 has the highest effective viscosity index that can be built into a motor oil, it naturally rates as the world's best all-weather oil.

TOPS! New PERMALUBE 5W-20 is tops in fighting acid, sludge, varnish, engine wear. Extra-stable barium-base additives prevent deposits. There's no better oil made.

OUTSTANDING! New PERMALUBE 5W-20 has outstanding ability to keep combustion chambers free from knock-causing deposits.

High Court Won't Hear State School Land Case

Pleas of a group of school land lease holders for an injunction against sale of their leases by the state has been refused to be heard by the U. S. Supreme Court, the office of the attorney general was notified Wednesday. Assistant Atty. Gen. Robert Nelson said this probably is the last chapter in the story which began with a State Supreme Court decision invalidating the 1947 legislative act providing for automatic renewal of school land leases.

Texan Given Year Sentence

Williner B. Thompson, 50, of Galveston, Tex., was sentenced by the Lancaster District Court to one year in the penitentiary on a charge that he attempted to escape for more than a year in actions through four different courts. Thompson was sentenced after pleading guilty to issuing a $2,237.50 no-account check in 1948 in the purchase of an automobile from a Lincoln dealer. On the 1948 complaint he faced only a two-year maximum term on the charge for which the penalty was amended in 1951 to a maximum of seven years. The defendant had fought extradition to this county from Kansas for more than a year after serving a federal sentence under the Dyer Act and precipitated a minor legal skirmish, before pleading guilty, to have the charge quashed by the District Court.

Tax 'Injustice' Correction Beyond State Realm—Crosby

Correction of "injustice" done to some taxpayers in the wake of this year's assessment equalization effort is "beyond the legal reach of state government," Gov. Crosby said Wednesday. "The correction must come from you folks at home and your local officials," the governor declared in another of a series of open letters addressed to North Platte, his home town. The State Board of Equalization, of which the governor is chairman, recently ordered real estate assessments in North Platte raised 207 per cent. "I feel sorry for a lot of folks there who own only their homes and a little household furnishings and have no auto or other personal property and probably enjoy only a modest fixed income," the letter continued. "Countless times I've thought of Mrs. Turpie who taught first grade to both me and my son. This year her taxes in North Platte will be almost doubled, I would guess. She has not written to me either," the governor said. Reviewing the background of the complicated situation, including the Laflin case from Johnson County which was taken to the state Supreme Court, the Governor commented: "It's all well and good for all those who understand this situation to praise me and the other members of the State Board of Equalization for having the courage to enforce the State Constitution and the Supreme Court ruling. "I appreciate the editorial support from all the newspapers—every one—that have reporters covering the state house, even the biggest democratic daily in the state. But living up to one's oath of office goes a little hard when the home folks don't understand and feel that they have been wronged."

Report On Truck Explosives Asked

Five Nebraska trucking companies were called upon Wednesday to furnish a report on all explosives hauled by them in intra-state traffic between June 1 and Sept. 30. They will be required to show date, weight and place of origin and destination. The firms are Watson Bros., Red Ball and Union Freightways, all of Omaha; Peterson & Peterson, Grand Island, and West Nebraska Express, Scottsbluff. The State Railway Commission explained that they are seeking to find out whether safety regulations are being followed and whether proper rates are being charged.

State Grange Repeats Farm Co-Operative Defense

The Nebraska State Grange Wednesday reiterated its defense of farm co-operatives in annual meeting resolutions that described the co-operative as "the best means of combating monopoly."

Defending the right of farmers to purchase supplies for production and family living, to market their commodities, and to perform services for themselves on a co-operative, non-profit basis, the Grange expressed opposition to any attempt to apply the corporate income tax to margins, which are properly paid out or allocated by co-operatives to the patrons.

It favored, rather, the Federal revenue law which subjects farmer-owned co-operatives to income taxes on all unallocated and undistributed reserves.

The Grange asserted, "There has been no attempt to increase the convenience and comfort of rural living in as short a period of time as bringing electricity to farms through REA co-operatives."

Woods On Probation In Car Theft Case

Coleman Woods, 23, of Jopka, Ala., who had pleaded guilty in Lancaster District Court to auto theft, was placed on three years probation by Judge Harry Ankeny.

Woods was charged with theft of a 1950-model car from Capitol Motors in Lincoln on Sept. 15. He was apprehended later that day at Nebraska City.

County Attorney Frederick Wagner told the court that Woods and an 18-year-old accomplice, who has been given probation, were influenced by another man. He said Woods has no previous record.

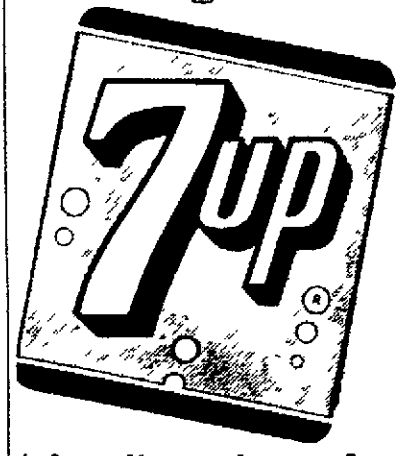

The man, referred to by Wagner, has pleaded not guilty in County Court to a charge of auto theft and is awaiting preliminary hearing.

Auditorium Start Asked In Court Brief

The Supreme Court was asked to order that the Lincoln City Council start within a reasonable time the construction of the auditorium at 15th and N.

The request was made in a brief filed with the Court by Myron D. Noble, and others, in their appeal from dismissal by the Lancaster County District Court of a petition for the city to show cause why construction had not been started on the auditorium at 15th and N based on a declaratory judgment.

The case had its beginning in 1950 when the plaintiffs, as taxpayers, appealed to the courts to prevent the City Council from submitting a charter amendment to permit the changing of the site of the auditorium from the place originally designated.

The courts were asked to require the City Council to obtain bids and enter into a contract for the construction.

The plaintiffs assign as an error by the lower court the allowing of C. M. Sutherland, et al., to intervene on behalf of the stand taken by the City Council. They also contend that the defendants did not show sufficient cause for failure to act.

Briefs Filed In Tax Appeal

Three counties, Howard, Grant and Buffalo, filed briefs in the State Supreme Court appealing from assessment values fixed by the State Board of Equalization.

Howard and Grant counties argue that the action of the state board was "arbitrary, unreasonable and capricious and not sustained by the evidence and the law." They also object because the show cause order of the board included both "increase and decrease" instead of specifically stating the intent of the board.

Buffalo County also complains that the notice was insufficient because the chairman of the board did not receive it.

All contend that there was insufficient evidence to support the findings of the state board.

The increase ordered by the State Board tacked approximately $10 million on the total assessed valuation of town lots and improvements in Buffalo County. The new total is $32,722,540.

The court will hear oral arguments after the State Board has had time to file its briefs.

Sowers End Tour With Banquet At Seward

SEWARD, Neb. (Lincoln Star Special)—The Lincoln Sowers, Chamber of Commerce good-will organization, climaxed its two-day tour with a banquet held here Wednesday night.

Lloyd Marti was principal speaker for the Sowers with Douglas Gort acting as master of ceremonies and R. J. Cederdahl greeting those attending. Louis Spahn, president of the Seward Chamber of Commerce, Mayor George D. Thomas, and John Coyle, Seward C of C secretary, spoke for the people of Seward.

Earl T. Luff, president of the Lincoln C of C, was a special guest at the banquet attended by approximately 120 persons.

Schools were dismissed in all towns visited by the Sowers Wednesday. In most communities, they were greeted by high school band, school officials and the mayor.

Mason City

During the morning they visited Mason City where 200 persons led by Mayor Joe Turner greeted them.

In Litchfield, the Sowers were met by Mayor J. W. Shaffer, Superintendent of Schools Robert C. Sweeney and the high school band directed by Mrs. Lois Hanshaw.

The largest crowd of the day, 1,000 persons, met the group at Ravenna. The delegation was led by Mayor Clarence Davidson, Chamber of Commerce president Bill Pokorney, Superintendent of Schools Hugh Linn, and the band directed by Robert Folsom.

About 150 persons led by Mayor Earl Dave greeted the Sowers at Cairo. Mayor G. A. Rembolt and the high school band directed by D. I. Priestly led a delegation of 200 to meet the group at Chapman.

Central City was the lunch stop for the Sowers. Speaking for the Lincoln organization were R. J. Cederdahl and master of ceremonies Clarence Whitmer. Central City was represented by Ray Burg, first vice president of the Chamber of Commerce, and Mayor H. H. Riley.

The first afternoon stop was at Hordville where a delegation of 100 led by Mayor R. C. Gustafson met the Sowers.

Folk Band

At Polk Mayor Marvin Fredrickson, Superintendent of Schools H. E. Warren, Chamber of Commerce Secretary Merle Stromburg and the high school band directed by Wesley Reist greeted the Lincolns.

Stromburg mayor, Edwin Anderson, Superintendent of Schools Walter Franks and the band led by Carroll Brown greeted the Sowers on their next stop.

The Sowers were met by a delegation of 150 led by Arthur Schockey, chairman of the town board, at Shelby. Harold Blevins, Lions Club president; Donald Armstrong, superintendent of schools, William McMeekin, town board member, and the band led by Dean Dillinger, were also on hand.

School buses were held at Gresham so the children could meet the Sowers. They were greeted by a crowd of 300 led by State Senator Diers and Superintendent Dayton Rothrock.

About 75 persons led by Mayor Herman Wellman greeted the Sowers at Waco. Fifty persons were on hand at Uteca and 25 at Tamora.

Basin Group Meets

Henry C. Beckman of the U. S. Geological Survey was the principal speaker Wednesday at a meeting of members of the Nebraska Co-ordinating Committee for Missouri Basin Development. The meeting was held at the Statehouse.

Prize Cakes Given To Children's Home

Dale Renner, Lincoln manager for Consumers Public Power District, presents the first cakes judged in Lincoln's big cake baking contest to Mrs. Alberta Kuklish, superintendent, and a group of children at the Cedars Home.

All of the cakes baked in the contest, which will continue through Friday, will be presented to children's homes in the city. The contest is sponsored by Consumers and Westinghouse.

Contest sessions are scheduled each day at 2 p.m. and 7:30 p.m., with the grand finals set for Friday night when the champion cake baker will be awarded a Westinghouse Imperial 30-inch electric range. The daily prize is a Westinghouse electric mixer.

Spectators also will be awarded prizes at each contest session at Consumers Public Power District's downtown office.

Early Trial Sought For Kidnapers

Grand Jury Is Recalled

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The government moved quickly Wednesday for an early trial of the kidnapers who killed six-year-old Bobby Greenlee.

As a step in bolstering the government's case against the two confessed kidnap-slayers, U. S. District Judge Richard M. Duncan called back into session a federal Grand Jury now in recess.

The 23-member body was ordered to reconvene Oct. 28 to consider the case.

District Attorney Edward L. Scheffler, who requested that the jury be recalled, already had filed kidnapping charges against the couple, Carl Austin Hall, 34, and Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady, 41.

Apparently the FBI was, among other things, seeking some clues to half of the $800,000 ransom money paid the kidnapers by the victim's father, Robert C. Greenlee.

The St. Joseph, Mo., News Press said it had learned from a confidential source that the FBI was trying to trace a 40-pound package mailed to Mrs. Heady's home town from East St. Louis, Ill., Oct. 5. The newspaper said a postal clerk at East St. Louis recalled handing the package after seeing pictures of Hall.

The FBI declined to confirm or deny the report.

At first Hall said he lost the $300,000 while on a drinking spree in St. Louis. Later he said he thought Mrs. Heady had lost the money.

Meanwhile in St. Louis, the Post-Dispatch reported the pair had been followed by a mysterious stranger shortly after their arrival there after the ransom was collected.

This report said a tall, dark

Last Time?

Mrs. Barbara Graham, who was sentenced to die in California's gas chamber, holds her 18-month-old son, Tommy, possibly for the last time Wednesday during a reunion in Los Angeles county jail. Mrs. Graham, convicted of the murder of Mrs. Mabel Monahan, was taken later to a women's prison at Corona, near Los Angeles, to await removal to San Quentin Prison. (AP Wirephoto Wednesday Night.)

man followed the couple after they had bought an automobile in a used car lot. About 10 minutes later, the report said, he returned to the spot from where he had been watching the couple.

Sentencing Of Four Who Pledged Guilt Deferred By Judge

Sentencing of four defendants, who pleaded guilty Wednesday when arraigned in Lancaster District Court, has been deferred by Judge Harry Ankeny pending case investigation by the adult probation officer.

They are:
Don R. Hart, 28, of 2750 Garfield charged with carrying a $100 no-account check with intent to defraud a Lincoln store on June 20, 1953. (Hart had previously pleaded not guilty to the charge and was awaiting trial during the fourth coming jury session.)
Leland Hackett, 26, of 1120 Dudley charged with theft of an automobile on Oct. 19.
Orla J. Wade, of Rt. 2 Lincoln, charged with carrying a $75.50 no-account check on Oct. 6 with intent to defraud.
Maxine Kathleen Harris, 23, of Lincoln charged with violation of probation given Feb. 4 in connection with a grand larceny charge to which she had pleaded guilty in District Court.

Press Hails Demo's Win As Protest

... Against Benson

EAU CLAIRE, Wis. (AP)—Those Wisconsin newspapers which commented Wednesday on the election of a Democratic congressman in the rural Ninth District, viewed it as a protest vote against the national administration's farm policies.

And one newspaper said it might prestage the replacement of Ezra Taft Benson as secretary of agriculture.

The Eau Claire Ledger and Telegram, Republican, the only newspaper in the district to comment immediately, said the election of Democrat Lester Johnson was "an apparent protest against falling farm prices and the administration's agricultural policies." It added: Another possible error by the GOP, and here again second guessing is easy, was the appearance of Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson, who slated a "major speech for the National Plowing Contest in Augusta. He said very little and nothing that would comfort the farmers of the area dismayed by their falling agricultural prices."

The state's lone Democratic newspaper, the Sheboygan Press, said that "the Democratic victory probably means that Secretary of Agriculture Benson is on the way out. Someone will have to be sacrificed as a gesture of appeasement, and Secretary Benson appears to be that man."

The Madison Capital Times, independent, which supported Johnson, called the Democratic candidate's victory "a stunning and stinging rebuke to the Eisenhower administration. The people voiced their protest against the give-away program which is turning over billions of dollars worth of natural resources to private interests against attacks on the REA and the program that brought farm stability, against the bankers' administration with its high interest rates, against government of, for and by General Motors.

Johnson, 52, a small town district attorney from Black River Falls, won by a better than 6,000-vote margin over Padruft, 36, who has served 11 years in the state Legislature. Unofficial returns from 399 of 401 precincts gave Johnson 27,790; Padruft 21,097.

Warner Sentenced To 18 Months In Oil Firm Burglary

Ronald E. Warner, 22, of 900 Adams, was sentenced by Lancaster District Judge Harry Ankeny to 18 months in the Penitentiary on a burglary charge.

Warner had pleaded guilty at arraignment earlier to burglarizing the Socony-Vacuum Oil Co., 1616 Holdrege, on Sept. 23. He was arrested by Lincoln police officers a short distance from the scene of the burglary, after fleeing through a back window.

Warner told the court he was

NRA Asks Land Limitation Repeal

RENO, Nev. (P)—Proposals by delegates from Texas and California that the National Reclamation Association seek repeal of the 180-acre land limitation provision of the Federal Reclamation Act were debated Wednesday by delegates from 17 western states.

Tentative resolutions for consideration of the association, which opened its 22nd annual convention Wednesday afternoon, were discussed by the delegates in 17 separate state caucuses.

The resolution committee has tentatively agreed on a proposal to seek repeal of the ownership limitation insofar as it applies to supplies of supplemental irrigation water from federal projects. Texas and California both want to go still further and put the association on record as favoring action by Congress to knock out any statutory limitation. Under the limitation, only 160 acres of land in a single ownership, or 320 acres for husband and wife, may be served irrigation water from a federal project unless congress has specifically authorized an exception. The Oregon caucus voted to ask that the 1934 convention be held in Portland. Last year Omaha, Neb., extended an invitation for next year's convention. Each of the state caucuses elected or ratified previous elections in the individual states of state directors, caucus secretaries and members of the resolutions committee.

These included: South Dakota: Art Svendby, Lemmon, director; Louis Freiberg, Rapid City, secretary; and Raymond Lund, Rapid City, resolutions. North Dakota: Harry E. Polk, Williston, director; Fred J. Frederickson, Valley City, secretary; and R. J. Sallern, Bismarck, resolutions. Nebraska: Petrus Peterson, Lincoln, director; Wallace Thornton, Lincoln, secretary; and H. G. Greenamyre, Lincoln, resolutions.

Ralph N. Gove, 54, Dies; Was Lifetime Resident Of State

Ralph Nathan Gove, 54, 3320 Washington, died Wednesday night in a local hospital.

A railway mail clerk, he was born in Bennet, Neb., and lived in Holdrege until moving to Lincoln in 1938. He had lived in Nebraska all his life.

Mr. Gove was a member of Masonic Lodge 227 and the Bennet Methodist Church.

Surviving in addition to his wife, Leona, are a son, Dale Gove, McCook; a daughter, Patricia Case, Los Alamos, N. M.; a grandchild, five brothers, Roy, Lincoln, Floyd, Waverly, Earl, Unadilla, and Dean and Lee, both of Bennet; and a sister, Myrtle Minnard, Ogden, Utah.

2 New Yorkers, 16, Crash Stolen Car, Nabbed Here

Two 16-year-old youths from Elmira, N. Y., racing to Lincoln in a stolen Omaha car, were apprehended by Lincoln police Wednesday after missing a turn at 10th and Oak Streets and totally demolishing the car.

The two escaped injury but were caught by Lincoln police on the road a short while after the accident.

The two were returned to Omaha Wednesday afternoon to face charges in connection with the car theft.

The car had been stolen from in front of an Omaha residence shortly after midnight Tuesday.

Anthony Blockwitz Dies At Age 39

Anthony Blockwitz, 39, 1134 G, died Wednesday in a local hospital.

Blockwitz was born in Lincoln and had lived here all his life. He was a member of St. Mary's Cathedral.

Surviving is his mother, Mrs. Margaret Blockwitz, Lincoln, and a brother, Joseph of Miami, Okla.

Rented Guild Watercolor Painting Said Missing

A watercolor painting owned by the Lincoln Artists Guild and rented to a woman known only by her last name is missing. "The Quarry," by Gale Butt, was rented in Jan. 1932 and is easily identified by a tag on the back, as belonging to the Guild. In announcing the loss, Mrs. Barbara Rosa said, the group does not know the renter's first name or address and hopes that the person who has it "will at least return the painting, if not the rent."

Math Honorary Initiates 5 At NU

Five University of Nebraska students were initiated as members of Pi Mu Epsilon, honorary mathematics fraternity, Wednesday night.

Prof. J. S. Frame, chairman of the Department of Mathematics at Michigan State College, guest speaker, conducted the initiation.

New members are Robert Hawke, Richard Wells and Wesley Boswell, all of Lincoln; John Eule of Ainsworth, and Ronald Swanson of Omaha.

Jean Davis, president of the local chapter, was toastmistress at the banquet held in celebration of the 25th anniversary of Pi Mu Epsilon. Theodore Jorgensen Jr., University professor of physics and first president of the Nebraska chapter, was guest of honor.

Frame will discuss "Modular Representation of the Symmetric Group" at 10 a.m. Thursday at Burnett Hall, Room 104. His subject Wednesday evening was "Symmetry Groups and Their Representatives."

His visit to the University campus is sponsored by the Department of Mathematics and Pi Mu Epsilon.

Joe Wahl Fined $100 After Pleading Guilty To 'Resisting An Officer' Count

Joe Wahl, 28, of 1825 No. 28th, who pleaded guilty Wednesday in Lancaster County Court to a charge of "resisting an officer," was given the maximum fine of $100 by Judge Herbert Ronin.

In the information, Wahl was charged with "resisting, abusing and striking" Lincoln Police Officers Roe Heston and Glen Lyman, who arrested him about 12:15 a.m. Wednesday after he "threw a beer bottle" at their cruiser car.

Wahl told the court he threw the bottle because he "was mad they had put a spotlight on his car." (The bottle dented the side of car.)

Wahl said the officers had turned a light on the car in which he and two other persons were sitting and which was parked in the driveway of his residence.

Circled Block The officers, it was reported, were cruising the vicinity in search of a wanted suspect. When the cruiser car circled the block, Wahl was standing with a beer bottle in hand beside a tree, authorities said.

When one of the officers called, "Joe, what are you doing," Wahl threw the bottle, then ran, the officers said. The two officers pursued Wahl and were some minutes in subduing

Memorial Services Held By State Grange

Memorial services for seven Grange members who died during the last year were conducted at the Nebraska State Grange meeting Wednesday night. Mrs. Loy Rohwer, state chaplain, presided.

Approximately 30 persons were initiated in the fifth degree and about 40 in the sixth degree at ceremonies held following the memorial service.

The Custer County Pomona Grange conferred the fifth degree and state officers the sixth.

WISHING WELL By William J. Miller

There is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 6. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you. Britain Explodes 2nd 'A'-Weapon; 3rd Scheduled

SYDNEY, Australia (Thursday) (AP)—In the climax to months of preparation, Britain exploded an atomic weapon today at the 80,000-square-mile proving grounds northwest of Woomera.

It was Britain's second announced atomic explosion. The first took place at the Monte Bello islands a year ago.

A third major test is planned soon for the same area.

Today's blast was witnessed by a team of more than 100 British and Australian scientists, as well as newsmen and technicians standing at varying distances.

W. S. Laird, 60, Dies Unexpectedly

Walter Scott Laird, 60, of 3737 M., died suddenly Wednesday afternoon near his office on the eighth floor of the First National Bank building. A Fire Department resuscitator was called but Mr. Laird was dead when it arrived. The attending physician said death was caused by a heart attack.

Mr. Laird, sales representative for General Electric, had lived in Lincoln since 1930.

Surviving are his wife, Clara; two daughters, Mrs. Lucille Kimball of Durham, N. C., and Mrs. LaVerne Hoffman of Flint,

Mr. Laird

Bishop H. B. Watts Will Appoint First Methodist Pastor

Appointment of a minister to fill the pulpit at First Methodist Church will be made by Bishop H. Bascom Watts after conferences with church officials.

The vacancy occurred following the resignation of the Rev. Joe Riley Burns who will leave Nov. 3 to fill the pulpit at Trinity Methodist Church in Wichita, Kan.

Bishop Watts will make the appointment in the absence of an impending church conference. The last Nebraska Methodist Conference was held in June.

Mich.; one brother, John of Chippewa Falls, Wis.; two sisters, Mrs. Eva Chase of Sioux Falls, S. D., and Mrs. Hattie Schmidt of Rapid City, S. D., and three grandchildren.

Officials said the atomic cloud, brownish in color, rose only to a height of 10,000 to 15,000 feet, due to the absence of water vapor in the air near the ground.

Sir William Penney, in charge of the tests, reported to London after today's blast:

"Atomic weapon was successfully exploded early this morning at proving ground northwest of Woomera. Scientific records of results are being collected for evaluation. Full safety precautions were taken. The second major explosion (third in all) will be made shortly."

Britain, the United States and Soviet Russia are the only nations known to have set off atomic explosions.

Months Of Work

Today's test came after months of co-ordinated work. Australian and British Air Force crews poured thousands of tons of equipment into the test site, landing transport planes on the hard floor of a desert depression 400 miles north of Woomera.

The supplies ranged from jeeps to fighter planes and refrigerators—to secret, unlisted materials.

Today's explosion is the 43rd reported by western nations since the United States detonated the first in New Mexico eight years ago. The United States has had 41, including the two used against Japan.

Soviet Russia meantime is believed to have had five explosions, and a recent series of tests with an unspecified number of blasts.

Steady Work

NEWBURYPORT, Mass. (AP)—Edward G. Perkins, a house painter, believes he has another steady job. Perkins, 78, was nominated for his 21st two-year term in the Newburyport City Council. He finished fourth in a 14-man field seeking 10 seats in the council.

Help for dry hair

BY CAROL DOUGLAS

Are you unhappy with your hair because it is dry and brittle? Now there is an easy way to make dry hair softer, easier to manage, prettier in every way. Just use Tame, the new invisible hair-dressing.

Tame conditions your hair in a wonderful new way. You don't spray it on. You don't smear it on. You rinse it on. And that makes a marvelous difference. Every dry, brittle strand is completely and evenly covered with a delicate, transparent solution that's like nature's own oils. Yet, it never leaves your hair greasy or stiff. Tame makes dry, frizzy hair silkier, easier to arrange. It gives dull, lifeless-looking hair a healthy shine.

Use Tame after every shampoo and home permanent, too. You'll find Tame at your favorite toiletries counter in 30c, 60c, and $1.00 sizes plus Fed. tax. No matter how dry your hair is right now, it can be lovelier than you have thought possible.

TAME Invisible Hairdressing

Elizabeth Arden Spun-Cream Permanent Wave gives Perfect results at home

For a Safe, Easy, Beautiful Wave

- SAFE! Only Elizabeth Arden has the secret-process, oil-rich Spun-Cream Waving Lotion that conditions hair as it waves. The same lotion used in the world-famous Elizabeth Arden salons is now yours to use at home. No other waving lotion makes your hair so soft, so natural-looking, so very, very easy to manage.
- FAST! The exclusive buffer-action of the oil-rich Spun-Cream Waving Lotion enables your hair to take the wave much faster, without danger of split ends, frizzy or burned hair. Gives you soft, lively, long lasting curls in half the time.
- SURE! Patented test papers, exclusive with the Elizabeth Arden Home Permanent, completely eliminate guess-work in neutralizing—the most important step in your permanent. Remember, it is the neutralizer that locks in the wave—makes it last! Test papers show you when hair is completely neutralized. This control insures perfect results!
